

Science-Religious Issue Discussed By Wm. J. Bryan

Assails Declaration of 40 Prominent Men That There Is no Antagonism

(By Associated Tribune Service.)
WASHINGTON, May 28.—The joint declaration issued here Saturday by forty prominent Americans holding that there is no antagonism between science and religion was assailed by William J. Bryan, in a statement published today by the Evening Star. Those who signed the declaration, including Secularists, Unitarians, Deists, Baptists and other political and religious leaders were said by Mr. Bryan to have put up a straw man and then assailed it with big words. "There is no antagonism between religion and real science," continued Mr. Bryan. "Science is classified knowledge; therefore nothing is scientific unless true, no truth can hurt the Bible. No truth can hurt Christianity. Our objection is to unsupported guesses put forward by scientists in the name of science." "The guess to which we most object is that man is a descendant of the brutes. The document published today makes the guess that another man who wrote the statement denounced as medieval teaches that the Bible is true, that Christ was born of a virgin, suffered for man's sins and rose again. Let them point out parts of the Bible they reject and the public can understand their issue. The Presbyterian general assembly spoke for nine-tenths of the Christians when it reaffirmed the church's belief in the infallibility of the scriptures, the virgin birth and the bodily resurrection of Christ. Why substitute an unproved hypothesis for the word of God?"

Court Vindicates Actress Named By Geraldine Farrar

(By The Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, May 28.—Supreme Court Justice Lehman today rendered a decision vindicating Miss Stella Larraine, young actress who was named by Geraldine Farrar as one of several co-defendants in her suit for divorce from Lou Tellegen.

Would Increase Taxes On Estates

Will Be Proposed Before Next Session of Congress—Will Stir Up Controversy.

(By Associated Tribune Service.)
WASHINGTON, May 27.—An increase in taxes on estates will be one of the proposals in the next session of Congress which is certain to stir up controversy. Senator Capper, Republican, Kansas, head of the Senate farm bloc, includes an increase of this character in a tax program which he announced today. He said that the so-called progressive group also are advocating that higher rates on estates than those in the present law which range from one to twenty-five per cent be used as a means of forcing those who inherit wealth to pay a larger share of taxation. Secretary of the Treasury Mellon not only is opposed to any increase in taxes on estates but believes the present rates are too high for peace time and are actually destructive of values. It is Secretary Mellon's contention that taxes which in effect seize upon capital as distinguished from earnings are economically wrong. He points out that the wealth of an estate consisted of money, real estate and other property, and that the results of a tax of this sort would not be so great, but that usually it is necessary to convert holdings of an estate into money in order to pay taxes and that this forced liquidation causes a shrinkage of values. Some of those who insist the present tax is not high enough would go so far as to double the rates. To prevent evasion of estate taxes this element favors a tax on gifts. Senator Capper in outlining his views on taxation favors elimination of a tax exempt securities, the imposition of a tax on undistributed earnings of corporations, increased inheritance taxes, and a tax on gifts. "The last Congress by removing the excess profits tax and by reducing the millionaire's tax on income from 65 to 50 per cent, has made it easier for those who can pay taxes easiest and who own the largest amounts of taxable property, to carry far less than their just share of the national tax burden already being carried by the little fellows," said Senator Capper. "But it seems with all of the tax evasion and tax hatching among those whose incomes run into six figures, or better, they are not satisfied. Well, I think it is time that the tax laws be amended on the next Congress, in December, with another demand to enact the sales tax scheme, although price and living costs are steadily rising and profiteering in coal and sugar is rampant. This could mean a further tax on lean pocket books for the benefit of fat ones, the tax on the people of a larger percentage of their earnings through subjecting the consumer to the tax on the tax, that wealth may get still further Life Insurance—Buy from Bass."

De Valera Calls On His Men to Lay Down Arms

Document, Seized From a Captured Republican Leader, Calls for Discontinuance of Struggle.

(By The Associated Press.)
DUBLIN, May 28.—A document addressed by Eamon De Valera to all ranks in the Republican army calling for discontinuance of the struggle, has been taken by the free State authorities from a captured Republican leader, it was announced today. Issued under date of May 24, it reads: "Soldiers of Liberty Legion of the Rearguard. The Republic can no longer be defended successfully by your arms unless sacrifices on your part would now be in vain and continuance of the struggle would be unwise in the national interest. The military victory must be allowed to rest for the moment with those who have destroyed the Republic. Your efforts and sacrifices and your dead comrades in this foreign hope will surely bear fruit. You have saved the national honor and kept open the road of independence. Laying aside your arms now is an act of patriotism as exalted and pure as your valor in taking them up."

Negro Attacks Danville Doctor

Dr. Hugh Bailey is recovering at his home here from the effects of a struggle which he had Sunday afternoon near Marshall's store on the Bradley road with an unidentified negro who attacked him with a pistol. Dr. Bailey with a party of his relatives were out motoring when, it is charged, a negro rocked the car. Dr. Bailey paused and alighted in order to demand some explanation, and it is possible to secure the name of the person who had threatened the safety of the automobile party. He walked a short distance into a body of woods when he was confronted by a negro who drew a .38 Smith & Wesson closed with his would be assailant and after a sharp struggle he wrested the revolver from his grip. The party returned to Danville—five miles away—post haste and one of the members at once telephoned to police headquarters, giving notice of the assault and asking that an officer be sent there. It is reported that the answer given her was that the incident had taken place beyond local police jurisdiction and that the party would have to secure aid from Chatham. Representations officers became interested in the case and one or more are said to have hastened to the scene but this was too late to be of avail as the negro could not be found. Officer Lovelace of the county force is now reported to be working on the case.

Thomas R. Marshall at Spartanburg, S. C.

(By The Associated Press.)
SPARTANBURG, S. C., May 28.—"The real cornerstone of the Republic of America is the golden rule of the Nazarene and the essentials of the gospel are the essentials of democracy," former Vice-President Thomas R. Marshall declared in an address here last night. He came here to deliver the annual address today before the graduates of Converse college. Touching on evolution Mr. Marshall said "I am not concerned in whether my grandfather was a monkey. I have been kept busy not making one out of myself. I do not care what they say about where I came from, they cannot prove that Christ was not the incarnate son of God." Talking to a newspaperman Mr. Marshall said "that in his opinion the Democrats will defeat the Republicans at the polls when they stop wandering off in different directions."

Martin Case Is Set For Thursday

The case of Rufus Martin, colored, held in jail for the murder on last Friday afternoon of his wife on Union street, was this morning set for next Thursday. The case was originally set for Wednesday but the continuance was granted this morning at instance of Assistant Commonwealth's attorney who stated to the court that counsel for the defense had asked him to ask continuance for the reason that he would be out of town Wednesday. Martin shot and killed his wife on Union street following domestic difficulties. He fired five shots into her head.

Death of Miss Susie Wilson

Miss Susie Grace Wilson, twenty-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Wilson, died at Hilltop Sanatorium on Saturday night. She was a native of Spray, N. C., and had lived in Danville for the past several years. The funeral was conducted from her home, 45 Madison avenue, by Rev. Mr. Soyars, on Sunday afternoon at two o'clock, interment being at Mountain View cemetery.

Masonic Dedication Service Today To Be Followed By Big Reception

The dedication service of the Masonic Temple takes place at three o'clock this afternoon with the Grand Lodge assembled here for the formal dedication. The service will be held in the Blue Lodge room at three o'clock with Hon. J. H. Price, grand master, presiding. This dedication service will be followed by a public reception at which between fifteen hundred and two thousand persons are expected to be present.

Turns to Politics

General Lawrence D. Tyson, who led the 8th Brigade's assault on the Hindenburg line, is after a seat in the Senate. He is a candidate for the Democratic nomination in Tennessee next year.

Mrs. Catlin Is Laid At Rest

The funeral of Mrs. Grace Greenwood Catlin, wife of James T. Catlin, was conducted from the West Main street residence at eleven o'clock this morning. The services were conducted by Rev. J. N. Latham, D. D., pastor of Main-Street Methodist church, to which long-devoted service had been rendered by the deceased. Rev. J. N. Latham, D. D., former pastor of Main-Street church, but now of Centenary, Richmond, and Rev. Joseph T. Allen, of Calvary Methodist church. The obsequies drew a large number of friends of the Catlin family, the entire lower floor of the ample home being filled with people while others stood on the porches. One room, in which the bier stood was literally packed with nearly 150 floral designs, the fragrance from these innumerable blossoms hanging heavily about the home. Rev. Mr. Smoot read the service of the Methodist Episcopal church, this being followed by a earnest prayer by Rev. Mr. Latham, who referred to the consecrated work of the deceased and her Christian life. The commitment service followed at the grave where a large gathering was seen, and where profound grief was manifested by the friends of the deceased. Out of town people attending the funeral of Mrs. Catlin today were: Mesdames M. E. Norsworthy and the following from Richmond: Mesdames J. J. Courtney and Ella Tucker, both sisters of Mrs. Catlin, Mrs. R. H. Pitt and Miss Grace Davis, nieces; H. N. Catlin and B. R. Catlin, brothers; Dr. J. N. Latham, former pastor of Main-Street church, and Rev. B. Beckham, of Fernum. The pall was borne by H. R. Fitzgerald, Dr. J. M. Robinson, T. W. Edmunds, W. B. Hill, Frank Talbot, C. G. Evans, E. T. Parham and A. B. Cunningham. The flower bearers numbered seventy-five and included many warm friends of the family and the city's official and civic life.

Railway Unions Map Out Action For Congress

(By The Associated Press.)
CHICAGO, May 28.—Railway labor as represented by the heads of the 15 of the 16 standard unions yesterday mapped out a legislative programme for submission to Congress, the Tribune learned today. The organization would abolish the United States Labor Board. No final action was taken however. Not only abolition of the railway labor board—and even more elimination of one or two members objectionable to labor—but also a move to revive interest in the Plumb plan of control of railways was discussed, says the Tribune.

Children See Father Killed By a Negro

(By The Associated Press.)
VALDOSTA, Ga., May 28.—Four small children witnessed the killing of their father, A. Hunter, late yesterday afternoon. One of the children, a strong negro, while the father, wife and children were strolling in a woods near their home. A deputized posse today was reported on the negro's trail.

Woman Shoots Man Then Tries To End Own Life

RALEIGH, N. C., May 28.—After shooting H. H. Male, who resides near Raleigh, Mrs. Bessie Gray today tried to commit suicide by taking a deadly poison. Both are now in a local hospital where officials say their condition is serious.

Reddick, president of State College of Agriculture and Engineering today was seeking a transfer to another position in session here the proposal that he be transferred to the department of the enlarged school of engineering, it was learned today. Asked for a statement, Dr. Reddick said he would have nothing to say until after the board acted.

AND THE CROWD GATHERED

(Copyright, 1923, Chicago Tribune.)
PARIS, May 27.—The most startling slash ever seen in public attracted the most attention at Longchamps this afternoon. It was worn by a tall, blonde man in a top hat, who followed her because he had interfered with the betting, and the officials requested her to don a cloak to screen her flash—she, encased in 200 francs ($13) stockings from curious eyes.

WINESAP ORCHARD COMPANY HOLDS ITS ANNUAL MEETING

STUART, Va., May 28.—The Winesap Orchard Co., Inc., held its annual meeting recently in the office of the secretary, W. L. Joyce, after going to the Orchard property and looking it over. A large majority of the stock was represented by 120 stockholders present, and a motion was made and seconded and unanimously adopted, voting to elect W. L. Joyce president of the company. A vote of thanks for his untiring efforts to make a success of this proposition.

Ten Killed, 90 Are Wounded in Bochum Fighting

Communists and Syndicalists Retire for Meetings After 36 Hours Fighting.

(Copyright, 1923, Chicago Tribune.)
DUSSELDORF, May 28.—Ten are dead and ninety wounded as a result of thirty-six hours of fighting in Bochum, which suspended at nine o'clock this morning when the Communists and Syndicalists retired from their positions around the fire brigade quarters to assemble in various halls for the day's meetings. Of the dead, seven were communists and among the wounded are seven citizens and police who with the fire fighters and anti-radical workmen are the only influence to maintaining order. Frenzied speakers further stirred up the radicals, urging them to attack the fire station after nightfall. The fighting probably will be resumed before daybreak. Thirty-one mines and fifteen metal works employing 5,000 in the Bochum area are closed by the strike and the employees in a number of other factories in small industrial centers to day decided to walk out. The walkout is no longer confined to the Ruhr. About 1,000 left work in Bamblebach in the British area and dozens of strikers in the upper valley have compelled to close. Two of the largest mines near Hamm are also idle. Communication to Mulheim and other cities has been cut and there is no report of the situation there. The Kupp management still controls Essen and there is no disturbance there. Dusseldorf is without gas and only the center of the supplied with electricity for the moment. The anti-police movement in Lunen resulted of workers assisting the blue police, who deported thirty agitators. There is no confirmation of rumors that a large movement of Russian propaganda funds has been brought in from a depository in Switzerland.

Rev. J. R. Hite To Be Here On Wednesday

(Copyright, 1923, Chicago Tribune.)
CAMBRIDGE, Mass., May 27.—The workmen of the police today issued the first order since they were called into existence to safeguard the Ruhr, and it is a sweeping prohibition rule. They forbid the sale of all alcoholic liquors in the city limits. This makes Gelsenkirchen the first dry city in Germany. The order also forbids all traffic from ten o'clock in the evening to 4 in the morning.

Use Airplanes Against Bandits

(By CHARLES DAILEY.)
TSAO CHUANG, May 27.—At midnight two airplanes arrived at Lin-cheng for use against the bandits. The troops are closing in with machine and mortar fire, and the bandits are negotiations by force following the failure of the local gentry to obtain arm terms from the bandits. They were received by a volley as they approached the lines. John Powell, of Chicago, Chinese returned and fled to the bandit camp today following his parole.

Council To Hear Protest On Library Site At Meeting Next Wednesday

Opposition to the building of a public library, offered to the citizens of Danville by Miss Bland Schoolfield at an approximate cost of $300,000 on the Memorial Mansion property, assumed further concrete form today. Last Saturday afternoon an indignation meeting was held in the mansion under the auspices of the two chapters of the Daughters of the Confederacy and in which representatives from the Wednesday Afternoon club, the Music Study club, the Shakespeare club, and the Danville Memorial association took a part. The outcome of this meeting was the adoption of a resolution calling on the city council to meet and hear a petition protesting against the building being placed there. Col. A. B. Carrington, president of the council, this morning said that he would issue a call for the meeting to be held on Wednesday at which time the body will either rescind its previous action, giving the trustees of the library project the right to erect the building or refuse to move from its position. Just what the action of the council will be is problematical. City Engineer J. L. Linville has been ordered by Colonel Carrington, it was learned this morning, not to permit any digging to be done on the Memorial property because the contract has been formally awarded to a local contractor to proceed with the work. Mr. Linville said today that under the resolution providing for the library he was to designate the actual site and while the council committee on public works has approved the plan, he has never been definitely passed on. In other words the council's ratification of the building of the library on the Sutherland avenue site of the mansion has not yet been generally understood that all formalities had been disposed of and that nothing remained to hinder the contractor in carrying out the plans. The architect of the building on Friday evening roped off the area to be used in erecting the structure for the purpose of crediting the trustees and the council committee just where the library would be built. It was observed on Saturday evening after the mass meeting that the stakes had been pulled up and the ropes lay on the ground. It is not clear just who pulled up the stakes but there was significance in the action in view of the protest on the part of women's organizations who adhere to the belief that nothing should be placed on the Memorial property. The discussions at the indignation meetings are said to have been suggestive of the library might be built one of these being that the library be erected next to the West End fire station. Just what effect this discussion will have on the library project is to be seen. The donors interested in giving Danville an up-to-date reading room and library are understood to have received a number of letters from organizations, some of which it is further understood, were presented at the indignation meeting—these letters commending the lofty purpose of the donor and approving of the plan. The donors are represented as feeling that when the library proposal was first broached it received hearty approval and during the council no voice of protest was heard. This was accepted by as meaning full approval of the plan and that the Schoolfield proceeded to have plans and specifications drawn for a suitable building which would be subordinate to the mansion itself. It is believed that a change in location would be the advantage of plan as the library to be built on the mansion was to have been carefully wrought so as not to dominate the property. If the council action is rescinded and refusal of permission to build on the memorial mansion grounds is recorded it would not be surprising if the project were abandoned entirely. Discussing the library this afternoon, Charles Harrison, member of the council public works committee declared that this committee proposed to "stand pat" and that it will not revoke its action in sanctioning the use of the memorial mansion property. Although a customary for committee reports with recommendations to be adopted, it would be possible for the council to override the determination of the committee to adhere to its original purpose. Mr. Harrison said that he felt that the donor of the library was not being properly treated and that he had been informed that Miss Schoolfield, after the trouble and expense of having the plans for a building on the mansion property outlined felt that the community might either take the proposition or reject it, as it seems fit.

MITCHELL SEEKS TO REOPEN BANK

RICHMOND, Va., May 26.—John Mitchell, Jr., president of the Mechanics' Savings Bank, which has been closed for a year, and who has been convicted of alleged fraudulent entries in the bank's books, made a speech last night to 1,000 colored people, saying he was seeking to have the bank reopened. He said that he had paid interest for two years out of his own pockets, that he had given up $100,000 of property to protect the bank, and that there was every reason why the bank should open. The colored people who had funds in the bank expressed confidence in Mitchell and adopted resolutions asking that the bank be allowed to open and resume business. Mitchell says the complex laws regarding banking are responsible for the financial troubles of the concern.

Formation Third Party Is Feared

CHICAGO, May 26.—Members of the "progressive bloc" in Congress, Hearst agents, Non-Partisan league railroad labor chiefs and government ownership advocates today began a conference here which bears some marks of the formation of a third party, made up of all radicals of whatever political brand. Senator LaFollette is the chief figure in the meeting, ably seconded by Mayor Hylan of New York, who is supposed to be the mouth-piece of the Hearst delegates to the conference. The delegates to the conference are hand-picked and big business men and leaders in the industrial world are not welcomed. The object of the conference, as announced in the pamphlets and speeches, is to bring pressure to bear upon the Interstate Commerce Commission to prevent the proposed revaluation of the railroads on the proposed basis. Public ownership, the throwing of the railroads of the country into politics, appeared to be the keynote of the conference. All speeches were along this line with sinister references to what will happen to the courts if they disregard the wishes of the progressives. One of the morning papers discussing the conference editorially, intimates that a handful of radicals, posing as progressives, are in reality a bunch of "wreckers."

Their indication of the purpose and nature of the conference was given when J. P. Haynes, traffic director of the Association of Commerce, together with some of Chicago's leading shippers attempted to obtain a hearing. They were shut out and the "progressives" went into secret session. The shippers, determined to get their questions before the meeting, sent a telegram to Chairman LaFollette by a telegraph messenger and it is known he received them. Boiled down, these questions are:

Is not the public represented by the Interstate Commerce Commission, the attorney general of the United States and state officials in the making of railroad valuations at present?

You, Senator LaFollette, made the assertion in 1910 that valuations of the railroads would cost not more than $2,400,000 and would save in transportation charges even in the months, more than 150 times the cost of making the physical valuation. Valuation has proceeded for ten years, yet not one of the great eastern systems has been valued, even the railroads of this work has cost the government $25,000,000 and the railroads $62,855,000, a total of $87,855,000. Will you explain the discrepancy between your promise and its fulfillment?

Would the country be justified in undergoing the period of agitation, uncertainty and business disturbance which would be an inevitable concomitant of the revaluation you propose?

If the railroads are "affected with a public interest" is not food more so affected? Why, then, should not the food production and consumption of food be regulated by law?

If restrictions by law should make it impossible to sell railroad stocks, how would improvements be provided?

Your coteries have threatened to precipitate government ownership. Explicitly then why Canada's government railroads have an annual deficit, while the privately owned Canadian Pacific has never failed to pay an annual dividend.

The value of farm property increased nearly four fold between 1900 and 1920, while the rural population increased less than 14 per cent. Can there be anything seriously wrong with a transportation system which made such an increase possible?

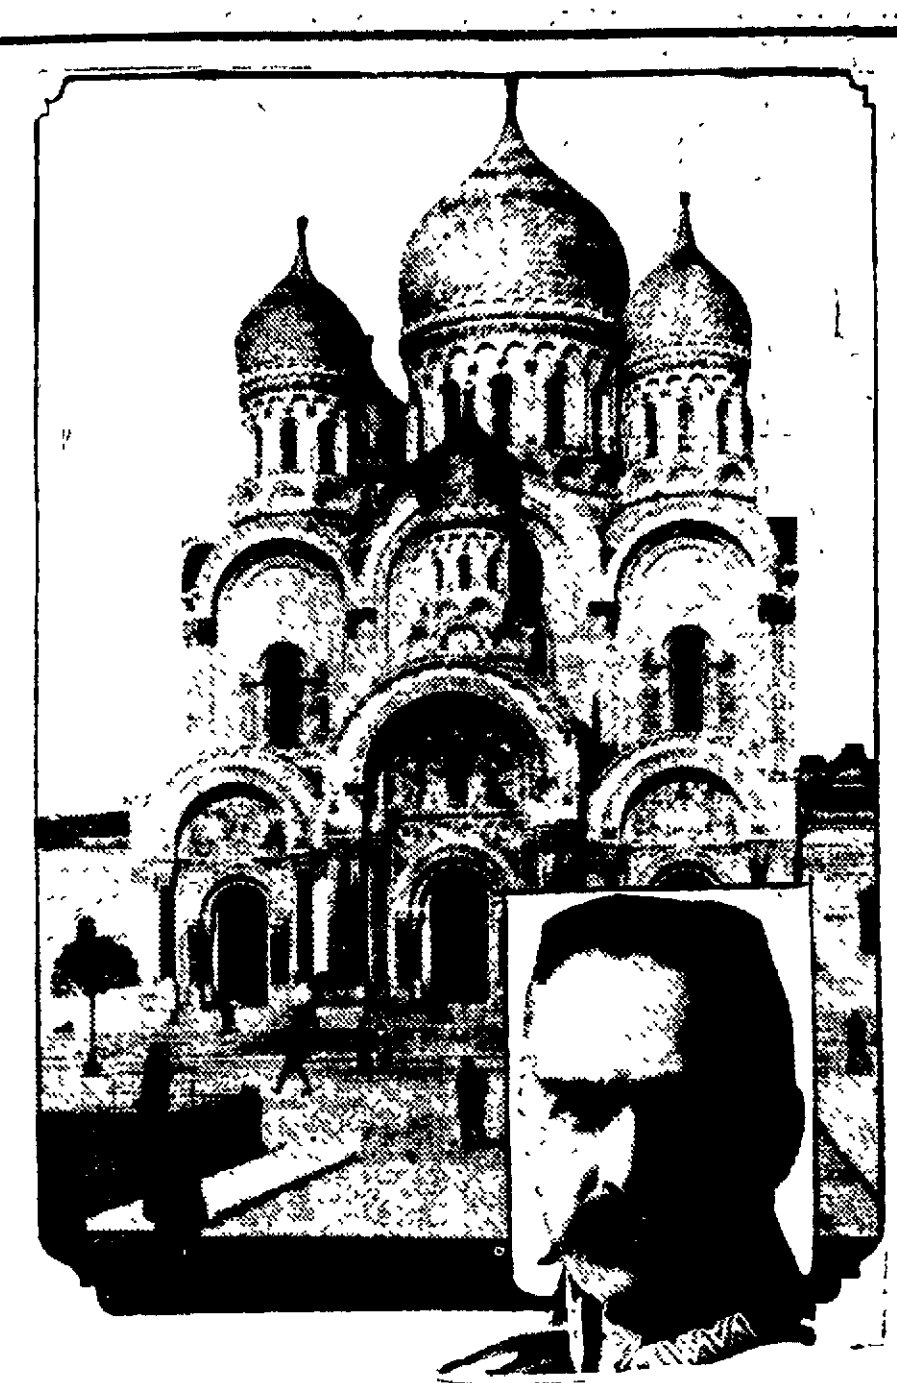

Senator LaFollette and his hand of extremists have these questions in hand, but they choose to ignore them. William Jennings Bryan, an interested listener on the side in today, is expected to speak tomorrow.

N. Y. TO MAKE BID FOR NEXT CONVENTION

WASHINGTON, May 26.—Norman E. Mack, of New York, gave notice of a meeting of the executive committee of the Democratic national committee here today that New York city would make a determined bid for the next national convention of the party. Other cities seeking the convention were reported as Cleveland, Denver and San Francisco.

Chairman Hull called the executive committee into session to go over committee affairs before the summer holidays set in and the committee members leave on vacation trips.

POLES DESTROY THE WARSAW CATHEDRAL TO SHOW SCORN

CATHEDRAL OF ALEXANDER NEVSKI IN WARSAW WHICH IS BEING DESTROYED BY THE POLES AS A SYMBOL OF THE DISAPPEARANCE OF OLD RUSSIAN DOMINATION. INSET: MR. SHAL PILUDSKI, WHO WITH OTHER NATIONAL LEADERS, HELPED ESTABLISH THE POLISH NATIONAL GOVERNMENT.

WARSAW, May 28.—All Poland is celebrating the beginning of the destruction of Warsaw's most beautiful building.

For the razing of the magnificent Cathedral of Alexander Nevski, marks the disappearance of the last symbol of Russian domination.

The beauty of Warsaw will suffer, for the edifice stood in the exact center of the city facing the Saxon Gardens. To the foreigners the cathedral was the most noteworthy structure in Warsaw. But to the Poles it was the most distasteful.

Millions were expended in its erection in 1894. Its founders intended it to become the greatest center of Russian civic and religious culture.

But it stood in a land where 75 per cent of the population were Roman Catholic Poles and Mazurs, 10 per cent Jews, 6 per cent Protestant Germans and only 1 per cent adherents of Holy Russia.

Its gilded copper domes have overshadowed the nearby palace of the Saxon-Polish kings, and the humble Catholic Cathedral of St. John. But they never overpowered the Poles who finally succeeded in breaking away from Russian domination.

When the government under such leadership as Marshal Pilsudski and others finally became strong enough it decreed that the church must go. It was Poland's answer to Russia's war on religion, it was Poland's break through the last bonds that tied her to Russia.

On May 3, the Polish national holiday, the destruction of the cathedral began. It will continue, with pomp and celebration, until the whole structure is down.

R. M. I. FINAL CONCERT

Large Audience Enjoys Varied and Uniformly Excellent Program.

The commencement program of the Randolph-Macon Institute was pleasantly and auspiciously ushered in with the final concert in the institute hall last night. The concert was attended by a particularly large audience, despite the fact that it was on Saturday evening and many were in progress to public interest were in progress at the same hour elsewhere.

A program of seventeen numbers was given with uniform excellence, these embracing numbers, piano and violin selections by pupils other than the graduates, who have already given recitals. The full program follows.

FANTASTIC GOWN'S WORN BY BARBARA LA MARR

Through the sombre setting of "Trifling Women," Rex Ingram's strange story, of which he has made a film production, at the Broadway Theatre, moves the brilliant figure of Zareba, the fortune teller, the only woman in the picture, played by the beautiful Barbara La Marr. Against the background of the story Rex Ingram has made her a spot of radiant color, flashed in an infinity of hues, draped in elaborate silks and satins, rich velvet and brocades.

It is estimated that upon the fifteen gowns worn by Barbara La Marr in the production over $20,000 has been expended in making each gown more than a thousand dollars.

Four dressmakers were kept busy through out the two months of production and because of the intricacies of each gown and pattern were barely able to keep pace with the demand.

The story of "Trifling Women" takes place in Paris in the days of the Great War. Thus the gowns, ordered by Rex Ingram, must be made to reflect the aquatic lines and soft, wavy, hair of Parisienne courtesiers would have incorporated in them.

Each gown upon completion, was paraded before Rex Ingram on a mannequin. With him rested the final word of approval or rejection.

"Trifling Women" was written, adapted and directed by Rex Ingram. In the cast are in addition to Miss La Marr Ramon Novarro, Lewis Stone, Edward Connelly, Pomeroy

Troops Fighting Chinese Bandits Above Lincheng

(By The Associated Press)

PEKING, May 26.—Machine guns and rifles tonight are attempting to force the release of fourteen foreigners, including six Americans, held by Chinese bandits in the hills above Lincheng.

For three weeks crowds of official negotiators have labored in vain to free the captives who were kidnapped from the Shanghai-Peking Express near Suchow May 6th. Now the mountain paths of the home district of Confucius, China's greatest sage, that for days have been filled with runners carrying terms back and forth between the Paotzuku fortress and the negotiators below, are being put to other uses.

Old Gen Chung-Yu, Tuchun, or military governor of Shantung is having his way and three brigades of his troops, with machine guns and two scouting airplanes, have plunged into the hill defiles to "dig the bandits out."

Already the soldiers have had two brushes with the outlaws with fatalities on both sides.

General Tien has thrown his troops in a wide circle about the bandits' home and he is gradually tightening his stronghold, tugging the outlaws' communications and hoping finally to isolate the gang that is holding the fourteen foreigners.

Behind the Chinese lines at Tsoo Chwang is a military commission of foreign officers, headed by Brigadier General William D. Connor of the American Army, which is investigating measures being taken by the Chinese government for the release of the prisoners.

The movement of troops toward the outlaws' retreat followed on the heels of statements in diplomatic circles that it had been definitely established that politics and not ordinary banditry was behind the holdup of the Shanghai-Peking Express.

It was freely intimated that one political faction, hoping to embarrass the other, had instigated the raid. It was hinted further that the diplomatic corps was considering taking steps to seize the real and personal property of certain high official plotters in an effort to force action out of the Chinese government.

The next day General Tien's troops began to file into the hills in the direction of the Paotzuku stronghold.

Demands have been made at various times during the past two weeks by foreign circles in Shanghai that the powers undertake the release of the captives either by negotiations with the bandits or with the use of foreign troops.

The diplomatic corps, however, maintains that to deal directly with the bandits would relieve Peking of its responsibility for the safety of the foreign prisoners and so far has refrained from initiating such pourparlers.

As to a foreign military drive on the outlaws' stronghold, it is generally believed in Peking and Tien Tsin, a belief which the captives themselves have expressed, that such action would enhance the danger of the prisoners' death at the hands of their captors.

Moreover, foreign quarters at Tien Tsin point out that there are not 3,000 foreign troops in the internal compartments there, a force entirely inadequate to take operations in the treacherous hill country of Shantung against the brigands said to asgr exist 10,000 men.

The close of the third week since the 14 were captured comes with less tension than prevailed last Saturday. At this time the bandits had threatened to kill some of their prisoners if their demands were not met by Tuesday, May 22.

But Tuesday came and went and no executions followed.

There is no death abroad tonight and hope is being kindled that the prisoners will be spared, but with General Tien's troops launching their drive against the Paotzuku stronghold, there is considerable anxiety in foreign quarters for the safety of the imprisoned fourteen.

FIRST WEEK OF THE PICKERT CO. WAS A SUCCESS

The first week of the Pickert Stock Company, which is playing an indefinite engagement at the Majestic Theatre, was a success from every standpoint. The two shows presented, "Smiling Through" the first three days and "Twin Beds," the last three, were two of the best in the repertoire. The attendance was good, the house well pleased. This in itself speaks for the company and their grade of shows. The crowded houses at each performance attest the popularity of the company and the shows also.

On the first three nights of this week, the company will present "Civilian Clothes" to Danville theatregoers for the first time. The performance has not been seen here in any form and for this reason is expected to draw capacity audiences. "Civilian Clothes" is a popular attraction in the large cities and has made a hit wherever played on the road.

The cast of the Pickert company is a capable one, this having been demonstrated in the two attractions last week. The company has on its repertoire many high class attractions, some of them having been presented by one night companies while not a few have not been seen here at all.

—Ralph Baker and John Williams, of Roanoke, are spending several days here with friends.

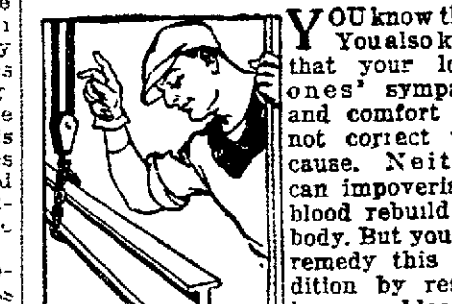

Try this wonderful Spring blood tonic

Take Hood's Sarsaparilla as a spring medicine for that tired feeling, caused by thick, impure blood. Hood's makes you feel better, eat and sleep better, and makes your taste good. After the inactivity and close indoor confinement of winter it is especially hard for the sluggish system to combat disease germs. Hood's Sarsaparilla restores to the blood those properties which help to repel germs of grippe, influenza, fevers and other ailments. It gently stimulates and refreshes weary people who feel run-down. It has given satisfaction to three generations. Get a bottle today.

Florence Leeds Is Out With Challenge

Asks Stillman to Meet Her in Public Joint Debate on Merits of Her Case.

(By Chicago Tribune Service.)
NEW YORK, May 28.—New York might get a new thrill if James A. Stillman were to accept the challenge thrown at him today by Florence Leeds, his erstwhile paramour, from her luxurious suite at the Ritz in Atlantic City. Assuming something of the "Tiger" like expression advocated by Mrs. Stillman, Flo Leeds hurled this challenge at the ever silent redoubtable.

"Let Mr. Stillman meet me on the steps of the public library at Forty-second street and Fifth Avenue and we will tell our stories to the multitude. Then the world will see who is telling the truth."

So far as could be learned tonight Stillman had not accepted the challenge.

The fair Flo did not pause with the issuance of her dare. She added: "I repeat that Mr. Stillman lies if he says he settled anything like a million dollars upon me or gave me anything other than the occasional presents and sums I have already mentioned."

"Now that I have come forward and told the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth, malicious lies concerning me are being circulated. It has been said that I applied for a position with an amusement show. What a lie! I never heard of the man who says he knows me, nor of the place (Tom's River) at which he says I am stopping. I am here at Atlantic City, living quietly on what little money I still have."

"I do not ask for any great sum from Mr. Stillman, as his friends hint. I was a poor girl, of poor parents, and I never had a chance to get the education I would have liked."

"I did get a home at 965 Park Avenue, which I came to love. Now I must give that up. It hurts more than I can tell, but I do not care. What I want, what I am fighting for, is support for my boy, little Jay, so that I can bring him up and give him the education and the chance he deserves. For myself I do not care. I am young and can work, but not in burlesque shows, my mother described."

"Even the money I asked for Jay I do not wish continued after he is twenty-one. I think a large principal, as I wrote to Mr. Stillman, is a handicap to any young man. But until my boy is twenty-one I will fight to see that he has the support he deserves from his own father."

"Mr. Stillman never gave that; he left without a word of good bye, a phone call or a letter. Now if the world doubts what our stories are true, let him meet me publicly and I can prove everything I have said."

Florence Leeds, upon reading the former show girl's latest communication, pointed out anew inconsistencies in her statements. Today, for example, she admitted that Stillman had offered $50,000 for release from all claims, a sum they contend should be sufficient for one who does not believe in large principals and adequate to rear and educate the child.

They point also to Mrs. Leeds' present mode of living as proving she is not without resources which enable her to live in luxury. She has reserved a two-room suite at the Ritz Carlton in Atlantic City, the minimum rate for which is $16 a day, or about $500 monthly for rooms alone, without meals.

Whitcomb Rally Comes To Close

The Rural Life Conference at Whitcomb, which began last Friday was closed on Sunday evening following a general discussion of religion matters at the high school by a number of well-known speakers. Mrs. F. C. Beyer, who promoted the conference, said this morning that it had been a success in every sense and that she was entirely gratified with the outcome.

Bishop DuBose, of San Francisco, preached a striking sermon at the 11 o'clock service after Sunday school. The number of people in attendance was between one thousand and twelve hundred. One of the most thoughtful addresses of the afternoon was that by Kate Waller Barrett, State regent of the Daughters of the American Revolution of Alexandria who spoke on the social life of the Rural woman analyzing its complexities and problems.

Miss Adele Clark, president of the Virginia League of Women Voters also spoke during the afternoon. Harris Hart, superintendent of public instruction who had been unable to appear last Friday when he was scheduled to make an address during the day. Dr. J. A. Chandler, president of Williams and Mary College who was on the program, telegraphed that he was ill and could not attend.

Tammany Hall Aiding N. Y. Wets

NEW YORK, May 28.—Charles F. Murphy, boss of Tammany Hall, is aiding organization "wets" in their drive to persuade Governor Al Smith to sign the Cuvillier bill repealing the Mulligan-Gage day law enforcement act. Word was passed around today to district leaders to test out sentiment in their districts and give voice to it in a way that would be unmistakable. The wheels will begin to move in Manhattan Monday night, when the district leaders will pass resolutions calling on the governor to sign the repealer and authorizing the district chairmen and assemblymen to present the "views" to the governor on Thursday. Tammany schemes are more than irritated by the governor's hesitations and they are eagerly staying off the war path to pick out the most advantageous moment to strike. Governor Smith was at the Biltmore Hotel here today. He refused absolutely to discuss the repeal and no inkling of his intentions is expected until Thursday, when, after the hearing in Albany, he will act finally upon the bill.

Miss Mary V. Crews, of near Chatham, left for home today after a visit of several days to relatives here.

Mrs. Clyde White, who was operated on Saturday at Edmunds Hospital for appendicitis, is reported to be getting along nicely.

For Business and Sport

Finely pleated skirts of flannel are worn with tailored silk blouses for business and sport. The skirts may be either beige, brown or navy blue if they are plain colors, but many shops are showing printed fabrics, stripes and plaids in carefully harmonious colors as well. Blouses of the type sketched are most popular. They are made either with long wide sleeves or with regular tailored cuffs and are sure to be finished with a low waisted tailored belt. Heavy crepe in white or beige is the favorite material although with plain skirts blouses of colored silk prints are worn.

Swiss People To Take Vote On Distilling Issue

(Copyright, 1923, Chicago Tribune.)
BERNE, May 27.—The people of Switzerland will vote June 3 on the question of regulating a vicious system of home distilling which has grown up. It is proposed to amend the Swiss constitution on the contention that home distilling, chiefly by fruit farmers, has resulted in much heavier drinking than before and a great loss of taxation. The initiative in proposing this change was taken by the government. It is admitted by all parties that it will be approved.

A state monopoly was created in 1887 for the sale of alcoholic liquors made from cereals, potatoes, and molasses. These comprised seven-eighths of the production then. In the last few years the production of alcoholic liquors from fruits and herbs in home distilleries increased from one-eighth to seven-eighths of the entire production of Switzerland, amounting to 2,400,000 gallons in 1922.

The revenue of the state monopoly which bought all its liquor in Switzerland, decreased annually. Last year the deficit amounted to almost $1,000,000.

Spirit Of Adventure In Christian Life Today's Need Says Minister Addressing High School Graduates

Fifty-one high school boys and girls, members of the graduating class this year, all clad in grey caps and gowns, attended services on Sunday morning at Epiphany church where Rev. Malcolm S. Taylor, rector, preached the concluding sermon. The church was filled to its capacity. Following the usual services an added solemn touch to the spirit of graduation was given through the administration of the Holy Communion by the rector, assisted by Rev. J. Cleveland Hall, D. D., the rector emeritus.

Rev. Mr. Taylor's sermon to the boys and girls students on the threshold of their careers was a striking one. It was an appeal to them not to become too engrossed by the material things of life but to inject the spirit of adventure into Christian living. He analyzed in detail, the feeling of dissatisfaction which is sensed so long as the material forces within one continue to prevail preventing full realization of ourselves as God would have us. He stressed the importance of that spirit of determination to triumph over the forces combining against spiritual happiness and the vital meaning in after life to the spirit of adventure being applied to Christian living. The necessity of its being a dominating influence as it was in the apostolic day when the saints exemplified it in their daily lives. The spirit, the minister asserted, is needed in our individual lives and it is needed in our national life. Congress, he said, presents a dismal and discouraging aspect because it suffers through its personnel failing to apply the same spirit of adventure and through the failure of the nation to be a spiritual power which in every breast. Rev. Mr. Taylor in his message, said that the Christian church today needs a larger response to these spiritual forces and that failure to develop the spirit of adventure in Christian living is one of the chief causes of the lack of progress of the Kingdom of God. It will continue to be felt he added, until the spirit is more largely accepted.

Marsh Gains 30 Lbs. And Works Every Day

Lost Half His Time and Life Was Nightmare for 25 Years Before Tania c Restored Health Declares Railroad Man.

"For twenty-five years, I suffered so terribly from stomach trouble that life was just a nightmare, but Tania has rid me of every ache and pain and built me up thirty pounds," declared J. C. Marsh, 722 Monroe Avenue, Charlottesville, Va., well-known C. & O. railroad baggage-master recently.

"When I first had a few pains in my stomach, I didn't dream it would grow worse and cause me so many years of misery. But that was the beginning and with gas pains, nausea, constipation, indigestion, torpid liver, headaches, back pains and dizzy spells, I was so thin, sick, weak and worn out I was losing as much time as I was working."

"But Tania made a well and happy man of me and today I am eating, sleeping and working. One of Tania's has saved my life, it has certainly prolonged my days, and if anybody wants to know more about Tania, I will gladly answer their letters."

French Flier Coming To U. S. With Tiny Plane

(By Chicago Tribune Service.)
NEW YORK, May 27.—George S. Barbot, the young French flier, whose plotting of the Dewoitine flier has caused a sensation in continental flying circles, will arrive in the United States Tuesday on board the liner Chicago with the pilot in his motor-aviette and before the end of the week Barbot will start on a tour of America in the tiny craft.

Smile Dewoitine, the builder of the air flier, will arrive in America Friday.

The two men are coming to the United States for the one purpose of advancing aviation. They will demonstrate their airplane to all aeronautical authorities in an effort to prove that flying can be accomplished by airplanes equipped with small and inexpensive power plants.

The motor in Barbot's ship weighs 25 pounds. It develops at top speed 15 horsepower. Barbot has flown more than 100 miles on a gallon of gasoline. His trip across the English Channel cost less than $3.

Barbot will make several exhibition flights in New York. He will demonstrate his machine to aeronautical leaders in Washington. Then he will proceed directly to Chicago, which will be his headquarters while in America.

Search On For Kidnapped Girl

(By Chicago Tribune Service.)
CHICAGO, May 27.—Police and volunteer forces today searched every house in a radius of two blocks in a vain effort to rescue Miss Ella Westman, 17 years old, who was kidnapped Friday and is being held a prisoner.

Miss Westman, kidnapped to get to a telephone and called a girl friend, but before she could tell the exact location of her prison, some one choked her and hung up the telephone. She managed, however, to say that she was being dragged constantly and she was weak she could not walk. She said three men had seized her on the street, forced a drug into her mouth and carried her to the third floor of a building.

She told her friend to notify her parents and the police, but just as she was about to give the number, her friend heard sounds indicating one of her captors had spied her at the telephone and was choking her.

"Her voice trailed away to a whisper," said Miss Swanwick, her friend, "as she was about to give me the location of her prison, her voice became muffled. I heard sounds of a struggle and that some one was choking her. Then the telephone connection was broken."

Lawyer's Will Starts Law Suit

(By Chicago Tribune Service.)
NEW YORK, May 27.—Application for a judicial settlement of the $350,000 estate of Francis Lynde Steierson, lawyer, who died December 5, 1922, shows that more than half of the estate was bequeathed to Williams College, which is contrary to law. An agreement was made, however, with an adopted daughter, Mrs. Marjorie Lee Adams, of New York City, one of the executors.

Under the compromise Mrs. Adams received $500,000 from the estate, while Williams College, in addition to being paid a specific sum of $100,000 provided for in the will was also given $200,000.

A trust fund of $200,000 was set up for a niece, Helen W. R. Wardwell, of Lawrence, L. I., and one of $100,000 for a cousin, Ellis F. Hascall, of New York.

Charitable and educational bequests included $10,000 each to Trinity church, Champlain Valley Hospital, Y. M. C. A. and the Home for Friendless of Northern New York, all located at Plattsburgh. The sum of $25,000 each was paid to the Metropolitan Museum of Art and twelve other New York institutions, religious or charitable.

WHITE MAN SOUGHT

The police are today searching for a white man who on yesterday committed a brutal assault on the seven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Fore, who reside on Colquhoun street. The matter was reported to the police yesterday afternoon but no arrest had been made early this afternoon. The crime is said to have been a heinous and inhuman attack. The lad's conditions required attention of a physician. He gave only a meagre description of the man who made his getaway. The alleged attack took place on lower Colquhoun street shortly after noon.

Plan Huge Mortgage Of German Realty

Reparations to Be Worked Out Following Greatest Hypothecation in History of the World.

(By The Associated Press)
BERLIN, May 25.—Germany's new reparations program as it is now outlined, will literally be constructed from the ground up for it will rest primarily on a nation-wide real mortgage. What promises to become the greatest hypothecation of land in the history of economics will eventually encompass every square inch of German soil. The assessment will be on an assessment of 50 per cent of gold values. Five hundred million gold marks will flow into the Reich's reparations melting pot during the first five years. The ultimate payments will approximate one million marks. The beginning will be made with the agriculture lands and the physical properties of the industrialists.

Indigestion and its attendant ills such as dyspepsia, heart-burn, sour stomach, gripping pains, dysentery, diarrhoea, colic, cholera morbus, chronic constipation, gas, etc., and even sick, nervous headaches are now directly traced to disorders in the digestive organs. The food soon before it is fully digested, thus putting into solution toxic poisons that are absorbed into the system, irritating the intestines and setting up inflammation. To avoid this, you simply have to prevent fermentation by using Anti-Ferment. Anti-Ferment neutralizes the acid condition of the stomach, clears and soothes the bowels, soothes and heals the inflamed intestines and increases the flow of gastric juices giving quick and certain relief. Get a bottle of Anti-Ferment from your druggist with a guarantee of satisfactory results or money returned. ## Kvale-Stanfield Marriage Joins Church and Stage

(By Chicago Tribune Service)
CHICAGO, May 27.—When Alfred J. Kvale, aged 23, eloped to Crown Point, Ind., and married Billie Stanfield, his action joined the church and stage, with sidelines reaching into the prohibition problem, and hooked up a sturdy Minnesota, family with one of the fine old families of Baltimore. Young Mr. Kvale is a musician of parts now appearing with an orchestra in the Rendezvous Cafe. His father is Rev. O. J. Kvale, who defeated Congressman Volstead in the 1910 primary, his ticket being "absolute prohibition."

The bride is a most alluring and slightly member of the "Sally" chorus and her father is a wealthy contractor living at Pikeville, a suburb of Baltimore. She is blonde, while her husband is tall and dark. Publication of the marriage license issued at Crown Point spilled the beans, in a manner of speaking. The young people had not taken their parents into their confidence and when their marriage secret was out, they endured various stages of tremors. Miss Stanfield's mother had been visiting her up to four days ago. When she departed, she knew Billie was thinking of marriage, but she had no idea the event was at hand. Now Billie rather anticipates a session with papa and mama.

Young Kvale, as well, put one over on his parents. They first heard of the marriage Saturday and while mama Kvale was insisting there must be some mistake, her father consented. Her husband took the first train to Chicago to see what was what. He found out shortly after his arrival, for soon after midnight from his room in a hotel, he announced he and his wife were delighted with their marriage. "She is a fine girl," he said, "and we are thoroughly satisfied with what has taken place, although the announcement was a bit previous."

This was good news for young Kvale who had feared his father's wrath. He admitted he had been something of a disappointment to his parents, especially when he quit the University of Minnesota, but he had made good as a leader of the Rendezvous orchestra, "but I should have told them about Billie. He added that his efforts to question him were futile as he declined to come to the telephone. Attendants at the Rendezvous, however, admitted the young couple had married at Crown Point and that everybody was satisfied.

Seek Release Of 52 Political Prisoners Now

(By Chicago Tribune Service)
WASHINGTON, May 27.—College presidents, state governors, prominent editors, lawyers, clergymen and other distinguished persons have joined in a petition sent to President Harding today asking for the release of the 52 political prisoners.

So fundamental is the belief in civil liberties in the minds of the American people that adherents of the view that schools of thought and politics have joined together in asking the release of all the remaining free speech prisoners. They say in the petition and they make their plea, not because of sympathy for the cause of the men imprisoned, but because of their belief that the United States should not stoop to the methods of old world despotism in suppressing free speech. Among the signers of the appeal are William Allen, Dr. Russell Conwell, of Philadelphia; Dr. Richard C. Cabot, of Harvard University; Rabbi Stephen S. Wise, of New York; Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick, of the Union Theological Seminary; Mrs. William Brewster, daughter of former Secretary of the Navy William C. Whitney; Mrs. Charles L. Tiffany, of New York; Glenn Frank, editor of Century Magazine; Herbert Bayard Swarth, editor of the New York World; John J. Moore, a Boston, prominent lawyer and banker, a member of the Boston finance commission, Dean Charles N. Lathrop, secretary of the Social Service Department of the Protestant Episcopal Church; Herbert H. Lehman, and critic, Dr. Charles Friescher, editorial writer. Hearst newspapers, eleven college presidents signed the petition.

The governors who joined in the appeal include Gov. W. P. Hunt, Arizona; Governor Wm. E. Sweet, Colorado; Governor Jonathan G. Davis, Kansas; Governor Joseph F. Dixon, Montana; and Governor J. P. Walton, of Oklahoma.

American Debts To Be Brought Up At Council Meet

(By HENRY WALES)
(Copyright 1933 By Chicago Tribune)
PARIS, May 27.—The Supreme Council to which the United States invited, when the French and British will seek openly to bring up American debts in connection with reparations obligations and reparations, probably will be held in Paris at the end of June.

Although Quai D'Orsay does not call the project, it intimates the conference may immediately convene. Mussolini's visit, which is scheduled for about June 2, so the Italian press may participate. It is hinted that Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin probably would like to open the allied conference as soon as he has organized the British cabinet and settled domestic affairs. Through Lord D'Abernon, British ambassador to Berlin, I understand the British are suggesting that the United States delay slightly the reparations conference offer so that the reparations conference may deal with it. Meanwhile, secret conversations between the French and the French are going on. The French are insisting that the United States place its cards on the table as to how much, and when Great Britain expects to collect from Germany which forces Prime Minister Baldwin to believe Lord D'Abernon's story. Great Britain must do its share on Great Britain. Italy's attitude to general reduction of claims all around it. America takes part in expected from private newspapers in Rome, but

Murderer Eludes Police By Doing What He Shouldn't!

Whitfield's GRAVE WAS SHALLOW, CRUDE, OBVIOUS.

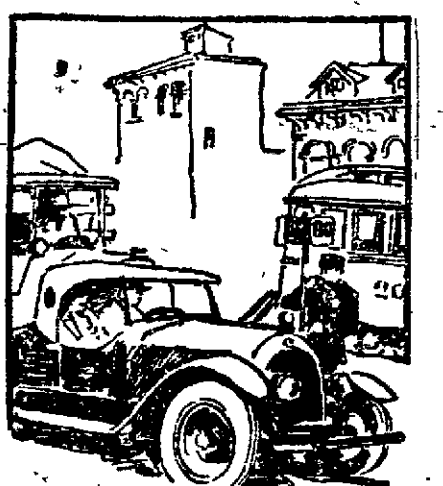

(Special to The Bee.)

CLEVELAND, May 25.—Fool or fox? Master mind or blunderer? Which is John Leonard Whitfield, wanted here for the murder of a policeman? Hunted criminals, in story book and reel life, avoid the beaten paths. Their conduct is painted with esoteric maneuvers to avoid detection. They do the unusual and are caught.

But Whitfield, "spark plug" salesman de luxe, alleged thief and killer, reversed the criminal code—

And escaped, hurrying derision at the noon-day dragnet set to apprehend him. Eleven days after he is alleged to have left the body of his victim lying warm in its rough, shallow grave—off a lonely road near Cleveland, Whitfield had slipped away. And then once more, acting on his amazing, intuitive faculty of "doing the obvious," he slipped away. A will-o'-the-wisp is Whitfield.

Throughout his entire flight, while the nation-wide traffic through the "kill" Whitfield did the obvious. Whether he out-thought the police.

He CASHED CHECK, AND THEN DROVE SEVERELY ALONG THROUGH THE HEART OF THE CITY

whether it was blind luck, or whether he was a rank blunderer, must remain for the reader to fathom.

On May 11, Patrolman Dennis Griffin, with a fellow officer, arrested Whitfield on suspicion of having stolen spark plugs.

Police say he operated on a wholesale scale. They contend he obtained the spark plugs through connivance of persons under his control, and that he was able to return them back to the manufacturers from whom he had stolen them at a price cheaper than they could afford to make them themselves. The ramifications of his operations, they further allege, extended throughout the country. Whitfield wanted to say goodbye to his wife. The officers allowed this. They had searched him. After going with him to the second floor, the policeman permitted him to enter a bedroom alone. While there, he slipped a pistol in his pocket. Whitfield and Griffin started for the police station in the former's shiny, blue Jordan roadster. In the traffic, the officer, following in a second machine, was lost sight of. Whitfield, say police, reached to his pocket. He pulled the pistol, and snatched himself to liberty and Griffin to death.

He drove to a lonely, abandoned road, near Chagrin Falls, just outside of the city. There, police charge, he strapped the body of every stitch of clothing. He built three fires and tried to burn the telltale uniform. In a store book he would have buried the clothing in the grave prepared for the nude body. Brass doesn't burn so easily, and Griffin's numerals "14" indicating the police

Kills Owl Which Ate His Chickens

D. Conner who lives near Rincold, today reported killing a large brown owl at his home, the bird having preyed on his chickens and having killed and partly devoured three small chickens. Mr. Conner shot the owl a few yards from the house the big bird apparently having decided to make further ravages among the chickens. The bird when shot, was found to have a wingspread

Science At Last Finds Cure For Paresis By Use Of Tryparsamid

(Special to The Bee.)
CHICAGO, May 25.—Paresis, the brain disease which is responsible for a large percentage of insane hospital inmates, has been permanently cured through the use of a newly discovered drug called tryparsamid, according to an announcement made today at Madison, Wis. Through grants made by the Public Health Institute at Chicago, Dr. A. S. Lovenhart, head of the Department of Pharmacology at the University of Wisconsin, and Dr. W. F. Lorenz, chief of the Wisconsin Psychiatric hospital, have conducted experiments for several years, leading to the discovery of the cure. Treatment of forty-two cases of advanced paresis, in which the sufferers had been committed by court order precinct, were found, to gether with brass buttons, and the remnants of a club

Even while the flames of the three fires were half-heartedly eating away the evidence of his crime, Whitfield prepared a grave, the indictment against him continues. But in a detective story, he would have dug deep, and smoothed the earth so that none could see. Whitfield's grave was shallow, crude, obvious.

Here enters another unnatural slant.

Whitfield had been maintaining a 15-year-old girl, Marie Price, in an apartment in Cleveland.

Sherlock Holmes would tell you that, under the circumstances, Whitfield should have fled alone. But he didn't. He went back in his glaring, blue roadster, and got her.

Then he drove serenely along in the late afternoon traffic, through the heart of the city. He stopped at a bank to cash a check. He leisurely traversed main arteries teeming with autos and wagons, and then headed for Chicago on the Toledo highway, bound for the very part of the country where both the girl's mother and his own relative lived.

The astonishing feature of the "flight" was that Whitfield stopped frequently along the route to sell spark plugs to farmers. In this way he financed the flight.

But no one recognized the couple. No one recognized the car, despite the fact the license number hadn't been changed, nor had the color of the body. He merely repainted the wire wheels from red to black.

In Chicago, Whitfield and Marie lived in a South-Side rooming house. They attended the movies. Then they moved on, stopping leisurely to sell spark plugs, the very article he of four and a half feet and was considered the largest of its species ever seen in that vicinity.

The most interesting feature of the bird, however, was the fact that it attached to one of its legs was a small steel trap. The owl evidently some years ago had been caught in the trap but had managed to tear it loose from its fastening. The teeth of the trap had sunk into the flesh and the owl had been driven mad. It was evident that it had carried this embarrassment for some years as the steel was highly rusted as result of being dragged and constantly in contact with trees or the ground.

Eugene Neel, vice-president, has called a meeting of the Danville Tobacco Association to be held in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce at ten o'clock tomorrow (Tuesday) morning.

had been accused of stealing before the murder.

At Madison, Wis., Whitfield and the girl went to "Club Alibi," a tiny restaurant. Felly recognized them from a photo sent out by NEA Service and published in the State Journal. He slipped outside to phone police. Lieutenant Ole Seifand and Detective Jesse Smith responded. At pistol point, arrested Whitfield.

And now for the third time, the hunted man did the obvious. A man, with a price on his head, naturally would try to get away. But in books, and in real life too, the criminal with a pistol prodding his back, resigns himself to his fate and the story ends.

But not Whitfield. When he reached the door, he saw a street car coming. And just as it was nearly abreast he shoved the officers aside, and ran in front of the car, which served as a shield for the fusillade of bullets that were loosed.

Then he ran, seemingly in every direction. Five hours later, he was reported miles away. In a stolen car. Only the girl, Marie Price, was caught.

What is Whitfield? Another Arsene Lupin? Or just a lucky fool?

BASEBALL PLAYERS Limbering Up Now With Joint-Ease

After the game or practice Joint-Ease takes the kinks, lameness and soreness out of your throwing arm so quickly that you'll want to start all over again in a few hours. It's great stuff—speedy and sure, and many stars are wise to it. Just two minutes' rubbing and this great, stainless Joint-Ease soaks right in through skin and flesh right to the ligaments and tendons and bones—exactly where the soreness is. Ask for a tube of Joint-Ease and keep limbered up, as thousands of other ball players do. Costs but a trifle at drugists.—adv.

Pittsylvania Politics Rapidly Assuming the Red Hot Stage

CHATHAM, May 26.—The political field for county and State officers has been seething with excitement this week in which seeking after the office of county treasurer has been predominating. Incumbent H. G. Bennett has declined to stand for re-election and since his announcement C. A. Thompson from the extreme north-eastern part of the county has announced his candidacy making his fight on the matter of compensation, declaring to accept the office for the sum of four thousand dollars per year the excess which now amounts to almost an equal amount to be returned to the schools of the county.

Good Morning Judge!

For the second time Mayor Wooding this morning heard evidence in a "horse stealing" case and has dismissed the warrant so far as any criminal act is concerned and referred the owner who ever it may be to the magistrate's office if he wished to take civil action. It was the case of Alfonso Mannigan, colored, whom James Jamerson charged with stealing his horse, for which he had paid $25. Now Jamerson, although still making efforts to regain the animal, thinks he paid too much for it, for the trial revealed that the horse exchanged hands many times bringing in bringing sums ranging down to fifty cents and a rooster.

Jamerson claims he bought the animal from Charlie Scott for $25. He recently missed the horse and finally found it in possession of Mannigan, who claims that he purchased it from Howard Carter for a rooster and 50 cents. He says the quadruped was hardly able to stand alone then and that he fed him well and fattened him up somewhat. He declined to turn it over to Jamerson. Carter claims he bought the animal from Lem Taylor.

The police shed some light on the matter by saying that residents 1. Green Street Park neighborhood complained of the horse running at large in that section for several days. Seeing that the horse was almost worthless they gave the first man along permission to take it and if the owner did not call for it, the animal belonged to them. The man, Lem Taylor, the mayor told all connected with the case that he could see no evidence of larceny and that if any further action was desired it must be taken through a civil action. Other cases disputed for the following: Mrs. Sarah Causey was fined twenty-one dollars and costs for maintaining a disorderly and ill-governed house on lower Monument street. Alfred Thomas and Will Williams, colored, were fined five dollars and costs on charges of gambling. Warrants against two other negroes were dismissed for the reason that although they were standing around the scene of the game, officers did not catch them playing.

A fine of $101 and costs was imposed on R. E. White for driving an automobile while intoxicated. J. J. Connelly drew a fine of $51 and costs and a suspended jail term of thirty days for a violation of the Mapp act.

Sixty days in jail and a fine of $5 and costs was the penalty imposed on Will Holland, colored, for the larceny of a dress from Glimmer's, a dress store, on May 14. The negro was caught in the middle of the dam in the river by Officer John Clark following a chase to that place.

He threw the dress into the river when pressed so closely. W. T. Bailey fined $21 and costs for speeding.

Will Hall and Tom Reynolds, although close friends, they say, had a few words Saturday which resulted in a fight. However, Will and Tom are as good friends as ever, however, this fact did not ward off a fine. They were assessed $2.50 and costs.

Percy Hairston, colored, was fined $26 and costs for creating a disturbance and disorderly conduct.

Alfred Redd, colored, drew a fine of $21 and costs for speeding. A similar fine was imposed on Sam Horne on the same charge.

A. C. Samuels was fined $51 and costs and given thirty days, the sentence being suspended, for having a small quantity of liquor in his possession.

Buster Hall, colored, paid ten dollars and costs for making too much noise with his auto by having the cut-out open. E. G. Brumfield drew a fine of $21 and costs for playing cards in a public place on Sunday. The scene was a public one indeed. Brumfield and Lex Campbell were seated in an automobile with was parked crosswise the street. There they sat playing cards. Their arrest resulted when Sergeant J. H. Martin came by in a machine and could not pass because the road was blocked with the car. He testified this morning that he could not swear that the men were gambling because he didn't see any money but did state they were playing cards because he watched them before he approached from the rear. Sergeant Martin stated that it would have been impossible to pass the machine without driving onto the sidewalk. Brumfield was also assessed years has been paying the treasurer alone $7,500 per year and some times more and the question foremost with many voters is who will serve for the lowest salary. Applications are that the campaign will to a great degree hinge on that. This week H. D. Shepherd announced his candidacy for the House of Delegates. He was a candidate two years ago and came within something more than one hundred votes of being nominated. The other candidates for the House of Delegates are C. R. Warren, E. S. Warren and Robt. T. Carter.

The campaign for county officers particularly promises to be one of much activity, for commonwealth's attorney four are asking for the job, for sheriff three cant to serve the people, for treasurer a like number have their hats off and in every revenue districts the aspirants number from three to nine, for supervisor in nearly every one of the seven districts the incumbents are being opposed ann so on down with exception for the Senate which at this time is unopposed.

$21, and costs on a recent speeding charge. Campbell was not present to answer the card playing charge against him.

WANTS TO HELP OTHER WOMEN

Grateful for Health Restored by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Chicago, Ill.—"I am willing to write to any girl or woman who is suffering from the troubles I had before I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. My back always ached, so I could not go about my household, and I had other troubles from weakness. I was this way for years, then my sister-in-law took the Vegetable Compound and recommended it to me. In the time I have been taking it and it has done wonders for me. I keep house and am able to do lots of work besides."—Mrs. HELEN SEVICK, 2711 Thomas St., Chicago, Ill.

Women suffering from female troubles causing backache, irregularities, pains, bearing-down feelings and weakness should take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Not only is the worth of this splendid medicine shown by such cases as this, but for nearly fifty years this same sort of experience has been reported by thousands of women.

Mrs. Sevick is willing to write to any girl or woman suffering from such troubles, and answer any questions they may like to ask.

Scoop's Colyum

DRAKES BRANCH, May 28.—(Gapevine Wireless).—Speaking of New Year Greetings, this one has just reached us.

Twenty Years Ago—
 Remember Eggs were ten cents a dozen; milk was five cents a quart; the butcher gave the liver away; the smoked a girl received a dollar a week and did the washin. Women did not powder and paint (in public), play poker or shake the shimmy, and they were taught to cook.

Men wore whiskers and boots; chewed tobacco; spit on the sidewalks; and cussed. Laborers worked ten hours a day and never went on strike. No type were given to waiters and the Hat-Check-Grafter was unknown.

One was seldom ever operated on for appendicitis, microphones were not used; folks lived a good old age, and every year walked miles to wish their friends a Merry Christmas.

Today—You Know
 Everybody rides in automobiles, plays the piano with his feet; goes to see Charlie Chaplin; smokes cigarettes, drinks hair tonic; blames the H. C. on the Democrats, never goes to bed the same day he gets up; and thanks he's having a swell time.

These are the days of Suffragettes. Prohibition, and if you think life is worth living, I wish you a Happy New Year.

A Tale of Hard Times.
 Two gay young frogs, from inland bogs, Had spent the night in drinking; As morning broke and they awoke, While yet their eyes were blinking, A farmer's pail came to the swale And caught them quick as winking.

"Here they could gather scattered senses, Or breathe a prayer for past offenses, The granger grave—the guileless swain, Had dumped them in the milkman's can."

The can filled up, the cover down, They soon were started off to town.

The luckless frogs began to quake, As bobbed up on cold milk shake. They quickly find their breath will stop.

Unless they swim upon the top, They swim for life and kick and swim Until their weary eyes grow dim.

Their muscles ache, their breath grows short, And gasping, speaks one weary boss.

"Say, dear old boy, it's pretty tough To die so young, but I've enough Of kicks for life, no more I'll try it, 'T was not raised on a milk diet."

"Tut, tut, my lad," the other cries, "A frog's not dead until he dies. Let's keep on kicking, that's my plan. We yet may see our faint heart can."

"No use, no use," faint heart replied, Turned up his toes and gently died.

The brave frog, undaunted still, Kept kicking, until good will, Until he'd kicked to great to will, He found he'd churned a lump of butter.

And climbing on that chunk of grease, He floated through with greatest ease.

Bankers Passive On Problems Of Public Interest

(By The Associated Press)
RICHMOND, Va., May 26.—Resolutions disapproving the establishment of branch banks by National and State banks and endorsing the general principles of co-operative marketing of farm products as "economically sound and morally right," were tabled by the Virginia Bankers Association at the closing session of its thirtieth annual convention here today.

The association declined to endorse either the bond issue or pay-as-you-go plans of financing the construction of state highways, but on motion of Thomas B. McAdams, seconded by Giles H. Miller, of Lynchburg, the president was instructed to appoint a committee to study the highway problem thoroughly and collect data showing the actual funds available for road work for the eight year period beginning January 1, next. The committee was instructed to complete its work and report its findings to the people of the state before the November elections.

In offering his motion, which was made while the report of the roads committee was under consideration, Mr. McAdams said apparently it was impossible to ascertain the amount of money actually available for road work. He expressed the opinion that it will be an unfortunate thing for the association to endorse any particular plan for building highways but added that he thought the bankers assembling at this state convention could render a service to the state by assembling accurate figures for the information of the voters.

In tabling the resolution regarding branch banks, the association took the position that an early opinion committee was expected by the Supreme Court and in the meantime no action of any sort should be taken. Members of the association who expressed opinion in favor of the resolution said the bankers of the state had not had sufficient time to study the matter carefully.

TROOPS ARE OUTNUMBERED BY BANDITS
 (By The Associated Press)

these forces are Americans. There are 500 British troops, 1,000 French and small detachments of foreign marines and volunteers would bring the total to not more than 3,000. The consensus of opinion in foreign quarters here is that it would be inadvisable to use force against the Shantung brigands except as a last resort.

Military action, however, may be undertaken by the foreign authorities if the probable release of the foreigners held in the Paotzu hills were reduced to a choice between the

 With eyes undimmed as yet by sorrow's tears
 Pure as a lily's bloom, we see thee stand
 Proof of completed work within thy hand,
 Facing the world with no distrust nor fears

And we who've traveled far along the years,
 So far from youth's bright halcyon land,
 Till we have reached this disillusioned strait,
 We know how glorious all thy world appears

And so today we breathe a silent prayer,
 That life to thee be very full and sweet,
 And hope and love dwell with thee all thy days—
 We dare not ask that thou mayst not care.

But rather wish thee strength all cares to meet,
 And courage to keep thee in life's troublous ways.

MOTHER WITH THREE CHILDREN HAS GONE AWAY
RICHMOND, Va., May 26.—Mrs. Nina Lynch of this city, has been missing from her home since Thursday, when she entered a large car and took with her three children, Annie, aged nine, Pearl, five, and Douglas, three. She left two other children at home. Her husband is puzzled to know where they have gone. Mrs. Lynch has often expressed a desire to go to Philadelphia, and it is known she has gone there, but nothing has been heard from her. Mr. Lynch is arranging to enlist aid of the police in locating the missing mother and three children. No reason is assigned for her leaving home.

 What do I owe to you
 Who loved me deep and long?
 You never gave my spirit wings

LESLIE.

TELEGRAM FROM ALICE HAMILTON TO HER SISTER, LESLIE.
 Have you forgotten you have a sister? You didn't even ask mother to let me go to England, but I'm going just the same. You are not mad, are you Les, over my last letter?

Lovingly
 ALICE.

Letter from Leslie Prescott to Alice Hamilton.

MY DEAR LITTLE SISTER:
 I haven't written you before because I have been very much concerned in my own affairs and those of poor Sally Atherton, of whose tragic marriage you have probably heard. Besides, I wanted to carefully turn the accusations contained in your pert missive over in my mind before I tried any way to reach your mistaken ideas.

You hurt me very much, Alice, when you intimated that because I was married I didn't belong in my father's house, that I had no more importance in its affairs.

I confess at the time I almost sent your letter to mother, asking if it were true, but I thought better of it for I came to the conclusion that it was just one of your wild brags and that you didn't really mean it. I am sure now that I have received your letter that you did not mean it. I hope you will not put it down to any day-in-the-manner attitude when I again say to you that I think you have become too chummy with Karl. Why, child, he is nearly old enough to be your father. He is even older than Jack and much older than I.

I know it is not unusual for little girls of your age to get what they call "a crash" on a much older man.

Copyright 1925 by Rex Beach

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Calvin Gray, living in Dallas at the Elms, a exclusive hotel, is the enemy of Colonel Henry Nelson, son of Bill Nelson, banker. Gray is in love with Barbara Parker, daughter of Tom Parker. The Briskow family, friends of Gray, have gone to the mountains when Alie's daughter, has a tutor and a dancing master. The dancing teacher kisses Alie and, enraged by his advances, she throws the professor from a window. Mrs. King, the tutor, resolves to resign. The hotel manager orders the Briskow family from the hotel, but Calvin Gray arrives in time to arrange for them to remain.

NOW GO ON WITH STORY

"Nothing simpler. I merely showed Mr. What's-his-name that he was making an ass of himself. I've spent a fortune here; know the owners, too. Nice chap, that manager, but he has no business running a hotel, and I so informed him." The speaker held a finger upon his lips; his eyes were dancing. He knocked sharply at the Briskow door and cried, "Baggage ready, ma'am?"

There was a stir within, the door, was slowly opened by a bent, pathos figure, a woman in a black dress. "Mr. Gray cried, and he held out his arms.

Perhaps it was his virile personality radiating confidence, security, or perhaps it was Gus Briskow's shining face that told the story; whatever the fact, Mrs. Briskow uttered a thin, broken wail, then walked into the room, her arms and hair flying about Gray's breast.

"Oh-b-b! We ain't goin' away!" she said. "We ain't goin' away!"

"Of course not. Gus misunderstood. The manager merely wanted you to move—into a larger, finer suite, and he is positively distressed at the thought of your leaving. The poor man is dashing about collecting an armful of roses for you and Alie. He wants to come in person and apologize."

There was another sound and Gray looked up to see Alie standing in the doorway to her bedroom; with one hand she clutched the jamb, the other was pressed to her bosom; she was staring at him as at an apparition.

It was several hours later. In the parlor of the new suite, a spacious, sunny room, fragrant with flowers and cheerful with brilliant carterones, Gray and Briskow were talking. Alie and her mother could be seen in their bedrooms putting away the last of their belongings. Gray's eyes had been drawn, at frequent intervals, to the younger woman, for the change in her became the more amazing the more he observed her.

Gray sent the father away on some pretext, finally, then he called to Alie: "Come in here and talk to me. I am a guest and I demand acknowledgment." He observed with silent approval her carriage as she entered the room and accepted the chair he offered her. Faint trace of the nestler's daughter here. "I want a good chance to look at you."

"Now then, do you like Mrs. Ring?"

Alie nodded. "I like her, but—I hate her. She makes me feel awful mad because she can't understand that I ain't—I am not mad at her, but at myself. I don't hardly know how to explain it. If I was her I'd hate me, like I do."

"Would you like to have her redo?"

"Oh, I would! She knows every thing, and she makes me feel awful mad because she can't understand that I ain't—I am not mad at her, but at myself. I don't hardly know how to explain it. If I was her I'd hate me, like I do."

"My dear girl, let me assure you, once for all, there is no suggestion of disgrace about this affair. You behaved with spirit, and those who attention, and as he noted the lines of this young June he could find nothing in her that needed betterment.

Under cover, Gray noted Alie's effect upon her attentive audience, and he smiled. It only he could make her a woman to be sought after by some of the best people.

"We've been having supper in our rooms lately," she told him, when they returned at dark. "You're going to eat with us, ain't you?"

"I am, to be sure. But not in your rooms," he declared.

"You'd rather do exactly what would please me, now, wouldn't you?"

"Yes, sir."

"Then run along and put on that dinner dress that I liked best. And—let me look at your prettiest, too. We'll not spoil this day."

It was quarter-thirty when Gray, in evening dress, appeared at the Briskow ante. Alie told herself there had never been a man so handsome, so distinguished, so Godlike as he.

Alie wore an expensive black lace dress, sleeveless and sufficiently low of neck to display her charms. "Plain! A little too sober," Gray declared. "She can afford colors, ornaments. Jewel! I'd like some time to see her in something Oriental, something barbaric. The next time I'm in New York I'll select a gown."

Mr. Briskow entered at the moment, greatly flustered and extremely self-conscious, and here, certainly, was no lack of ornamentation or color. His dress was all her jewelry, and her dress was an elaborate creation of brilliant jade green, from one shoulder of which depended a filmy streamer of green chiffon. In her desire to gladden the lily she had knotted a Roman scarf about her waist—a scarf of many colors, of red, of yellow, of purple, of blue, of orange—a very spectrum of vivid stripes, and it utterly ruined her.

"You said to look my nicest," she beamed, "no I don't the best I could."

"You are lovely, both of you, but—this is my party, isn't it? I can do anything I please?" Gray looked from one to the other in eager inquiry. "Then let me fix you my way. Ma Briskow, your face is too sweet, too gentle, to be spoiled. Your charm is in your simplicity. Here, I have it!"

With swift impetuosity he untied the scarf, snatched it from Ma's waist. "Watch me now and you'll see I'm right." With his penknife he cut the threads that held the chiffon streamer in place and removed it. "Voilà! Even so little, and we see an adorable motherly person, richly but unostentatiously adorned. Don't you agree with me?"

Without pausing for an answer, he turned upon the daughter. Around Alie's hips he flung the scarf, drew it snug and smooth, then knotted it. Next he caressed the length of chiffon and bound it about her head. His touch was deft and certain; a moment and it had been fashioned to suit him.

This proved to be an evening when people really did turn their heads as the Briskows were shown to their table, but for once Alie suffered no embarrassment, for she felt sure they were looking at Calvin Gray, and in the shining glory of his presence she knew that she and her parents were invisible.

It was the sort of situation in which Gray appeared to best advantage, so he talked incessantly during the meal, and in a key that kept his companions unconscious of their surroundings. On their way out they passed the entrance to the ballroom and paused to look in. The beat of the music swayed Alie unconsciously; then, before she knew it, she was around her waist and he was guiding her out upon the floor.

About midnight Calvin Gray strolled outdoors for a breath of fresh air before retiring. He glowed with the consciousness of a worthy deed well done. He had come to the rescue, he had saved one from a night of watching the clock, and he had induced him to change his plans, and he now made up his mind to stay several days.

TWO HORSES KILLED; 2 MEN HURT IN SHOW

(By The Associated Press)
RICHMOND, Va., May 26.—Two horses were killed and two horsesmen injured today in the annual outdoor horse show of the Deep Run Club.

The mounts of Dr. Massey and Richard Kelly collided during the ring performance, and both riders were hurled to the ground suffering minor injuries. The light young mare ridden by Mr. Kelly, died in the ring. Her side was crushed by the impact.

Colonel Massey, Dr. Massey's mount suffered a broken shoulder and died with a bullet in his brain when it was found that he would never be able to walk.

The two men were riding toward each other at high speed. They were blinded by a cloud of dust from the turf.

West End School Pageant Was Held Saturday at 5 P. M.

The pageant and field day meet of the West End school of Schoolfield was held Saturday afternoon at 5 o'clock, the pageant in Wildwood park and the field events on the ball grounds. Both the pageant and the field meet had been postponed until Monday on account of threatening weather, but as Saturday dawned bright and clear, with no signs of rain, it was decided to hold the events as originally scheduled. In order to notify the people of Schoolfield of the change in plans doggers were distributed.

The field meet in which the small kids of the West End school took part was held first and after the events were over the boys viewed the pageant. The program of the field meet included a mass drill by the larger boys, mass drill by the smaller boys, cage ball and tunnel ball relay. The pageant was a truly beautiful affair in which costumes, rhythm, word and action combined to produce a fairy-tale play. The four seasons of the year were represented by twelve maidens, one for each month of Autumn, Winter, Spring and Summer, dressed in appropriate colors.

"The Glory of the Seasons," was the name of the pageant and the motif was developed about the opening statement of the Fairy Queen, Miss Margaret Wainwright, who in the prologue announces that there has been some dispute among the fairies of her realm as to which season brings the most beauty and richness to the earth. The queen then bids the seasons to come before her court to settle the question.

Autumn was given the first opportunity to set forth her charms of priority. In the Autumn group were the Wind and Leaves, the latter personified as a girl in a long, flowing gown of autumnal colors. The group dressed in autumnal costumes. Spring played its part and then made way for Summer, exemplified by Roses, Dragon Flies, Butterflies and Bees.

At the end the Fairy Queen announced that each season had a beauty all her own and that each was dependent upon the other for a perfect year.

To give the proper atmosphere to the play Fairies, Elves, Brownies, Puck and a Fairy Messenger were grouped about the queen. The pageant was a notable allegory and the tiny actors and the teachers of West End school who planned and rehearsed the affair are to be congratulated on the success which attended their efforts.

Children's Day exercises will be observed in Scott Memorial Methodist church Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. All the departments will take part in the exercises. Among those attending from out of town the funeral of Mr. J. M. Harrison, who died Monday night in his home Maple avenue, and was buried Tuesday afternoon in High street cemetery, were, Mrs. Josephine Harrison, a sister of Mr. Harrison with her son Russell Bernard of Ferrum, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Gravelly, Martinsville; Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Menefee of Lebanon; Mr. and Mrs. Milled Lewonham; Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Menefee, N. F. Menefee, Roanoke; Mrs. Geo. and Mrs. E. H. Menefee, Mrs. Pinkard, Miss Elsie Menefee, and brother, Jack Menefee and Mrs. J. K. Hurt, of Ferrum.

Miss Seba Russ and Miss Margaret Stevens, of Winston-Salem, N. C., have arrived and are the house guests of the ladies' society. Mrs. G. A. Johnson on Hotel Drive.

Mrs. W. D. Martin, who has been the guest of her daughter, Mrs. F. H. Watkins, on Spring street, will return to Farmville today.

The Rev. Mr. E. S. King, a student of Union Theological Seminary, Richmond, has arrived and will be in charge of the Presbyterian church of this place and Callaway for the summer months. There will be service at the Rocky Mount Church every Sunday morning while Mr. King is with them.

J. W. Menefee, of Graham, N. C., arrived yesterday, Wednesday, and is the guest of his sister, Mrs. C. S. Greer.

Miss Helen Utter with the Swarthmore Chautauqua is in Rocky Mount, interest of the Chautauqua.

Col. Peter Saunders leaves today for Whitfield, to join Gov. Trinkle and his staff.

BREAKS WORLD RECORD.

Science Doesn't Oppose Religion Says Statement

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, May 26.—A joint statement holding that there is "no antagonism between science and religion" was issued here tonight, as representing the conclusion of a group of forty distinguished Americans on a subject which recently has aroused bitter and widespread controversy. The names of the cabinet officers, Secretaries Hoover and Davis, three bishops and many others in positions of leadership in the political, business, scientific and religious world, are attached to the declaration which was prepared by Dr. R. A. Milliken, director of the Norman Bridge Laboratory of Physics at Pasadena, Cal.

"The purpose," said an accompanying explanation, "is to state in a clear, unequivocal and unambiguous manner that there is no antagonism between science and religion. The first is that religion today stands for medieval theology; the second that science is materialistic and religious is not."

"We, the undersigned, deeply regret that in recent controversies there has been a tendency to present science and religion as irreconcilable and antagonistic domains of thought, for, in fact, they meet distinct human needs, and in the rounding out of human life they supplement rather than displace or oppose each other."

"The purpose of science is to develop the domain of thought, to preconception of any kind, a knowledge of the facts the laws, and the processes of nature. The even more important task of religion is to represent the ideals and the aspirations of mankind. Each of these two activities represents a deep and vital function of the soul of man, and both are necessary for the life, the progress and the happiness of the human race."

"It is a sublime conception of God which is furnished by science and one wholly consonant with the highest ideals of religion, when it represents Him as retaining Himself through countless ages in the development of the earth as an abode for man and in the age-long breathing of life into its constituent matter culminating in man with his spiritual nature and all his God-like powers."

FRENCH TROOPS EXECUTE MAN FOR SABOTAGE

BERLIN, May 26.—Semi-official advices from Duesseeldorf say that Albert Schlegel, convicted of sabotage was executed by the French at Vere in a morning in the outskirts of Duesseeldorf.

The doomed man was advised of the time of his execution only an hour in advance and faced the firing squad completely manacled, according to the advices. His counsel and two other priests witnessed the execution.

School Teacher Blames Doors For Schoolhouse Disaster

(Special to The Bee.)
COLUMBIA, S. C., May 26.—The voice of a woman, whose face is young but whose eyes are very old, as if they had looked upon a lifetime's agony and sadness, is the voice that moves South Carolina.

"Which the schools!" says the voice. "Save our children!"

A governor listens. And the machinery of the state moves to prevent another such schoolhouse tragedy as the fire which recently sacrificed lives in the village schoolhouse at Cleveland.

The voice of Ina Mae Stephens, principal of that school, and a survivor of the disaster, of doors that were shut because they could only open inward, sounds to South Carolina like a dead chorus of the voices of all her little pupils who perished in the commencement fire.

She has just recovered enough from exhaustion and the emotion of horror to tell her story. As she was telling it to NEA Service, Governor McLeod and J. H. Hope, state superintendent of education, were in conference discussing safety measures for every school in the state.

Superintendent Hope announced that commencement exercises would be prohibited in every school building where there are not sufficient fire escapes—and that public buildings without doors opening outward will be condemned.

"All that can't bring back my little ones," said Miss Stephens sadly. "For them our safety rules are too late. But there are other lives to be protected. Oh, those doors! I'd rather see every closed door than another such horrible hour."

Miss Stephens talked feebly as she sat in a rocking chair in the house where she boards, scarcely 500 yards from the blackened spot where the Cleveland schoolhouse stood. Through the window she could see the little hall where death one night wiped out the joy of a commencement celebration.

"Our nice picnic—gone!" said the girl principal drawing her eyes from the magnet of the window. "A funeral instead of a picnic! We were all ready for the next day to celebrate the end of school with fried chicken and baked cakes and all the good things to eat at a picnic."

"Oh I feel as if I could never enter a schoolroom again! Always I see the faces of my little pupils. They look so pitiful!"

Two other teachers escaped. Zula Prosser got out down the stairway, and Esther Garvin through a window. Miss Stephens believes she was the last person to leave the building alive.

"I don't know exactly how I escaped," she said. "I was caught in the jam near the cloakroom door and Tom Humphries picked me up by my feet and threw me on top of the crowd. Someone must have pulled me away and threw me out of the door."

"That lamp fell because of its own heat, I think, melting the soldering from the holder. I was on the stage when it fell. The whole stage seemed to catch fire at once. I thought of some rugs near one of the dressing rooms, but the fire stopped me when I started to get them."

Nobody was excited at first, Miss Stephens said. But there were no lamps near the back of the room, and darkness there helped the panic. "As I stepped from the burning stage behind the crowd I picked up a violin dropped by a member of the orchestra. I handed it to him and he thanked me without seeming a bit excited."

"As I started down the aisle I put my hand on a little girl's shoulder to reassure her. Tom Humphries, who died later, was standing beside me and Coroner Dixon, too. I told them I couldn't understand why the crowd did not go out of the door."

"We started down the steps. Planes were just behind us. I begged the crowd to go on. I didn't understand that those doors opened inward and there was a mass of humanity jammed against them. People pushed, and there were cries. Then everything was confusion."

Miss Stephens said her left shoulder was burning. Then Humphries seized her and raised her on top of the crowd pushing her toward the door. "I struggled," she said, "and then I felt somebody pull me out. In a flash I heard two screams, one of my pupils, calling out—begging to be pulled from the jammed doorway. The jam was at the foot of the stairway, just at the turn to go into the cloakroom. Three small steps were ahead of the crowd, and it seemed that everybody was packed around the little platform. I could see hands raised in the air. The stairway had not fallen when I was in there."

Before they threw me out I helped little May Rush get through a window. There were no coverings on any of those windows, and we all might have got out that way. But who could control themselves in the face of those horrible flames?"

Miss Stephens covered her face with her hands as she told how she had reserved seats near the stage for the school children.

"I thought they could see better than I," she whispered. "And they did."

Lieut. Crocker Sets New Record With His Plane

(By The Associated Press)
MOUNT CLEMENS, Mich., May 26.—It is just a daylight journey from the Gulf of Mexico to Canada.

Lieutenant Harrison G. Crocker of Kelly Field, San Antonio, Texas, proved this today when without a stop he drove a specially built de Havilland plane from Ellington Field, Houston, Texas, to Self Ridge Field, near here, in 11 hours and 54 minutes.

The distance measured in time, between the Gulf and Canada is less than that, for Lieutenant Crocker swung over Canadian soil at the mouth of the Detroit River just 11 hours and 29 minutes after he hopped off from Ellington Field at 5:21 o'clock, central time, this morning.

Incidentally he set a new flying record, being the first to make such a distance at one hop, while flying alone.

Lieutenant Crocker's victory was won against odds probably as great as any aviator ever encountered. During 800 of the 1400 miles of his journey, his highest altitude was 500 feet and during a large part of the trip, he was as low as 100 feet, due to clouds.

Between the Texas-Louisiana border and Defiance, Ohio, he encountered 29 distinct storms. As he entered the storm area, the flier was forced nearer and nearer to the ground, flying as low as 100 feet in order to observe landmarks and thus keep on his course.

Seeing a group of tall trees looming directly in his path, Lieutenant Crocker caused his plane to shoot rapidly into the skies. It was necessary for him to attain an altitude of 3,000 feet before he could see the sun. He drove for an hour by compass, descending finally when he observed a rift in the clouds. During the remainder of the journey to Defiance, the flier skimmed along at the very ceiling of the clouds, passing through one terrific electric storm after another. The rain beat in his face while the lightning crackled just overhead. Intermittently he made out landmarks and thus continued his dash northward. At times he was all but lost in the storms, but his compass and "fly's" instinct sent him streaking ahead, at times dangerously close to tree tops.

Only one during the 800 miles of struggle against the storm did the plane's engine falter. It sputtered and threatened to die in the midst of a terrific electrical disturbance over Louisiana. Then it went bravely on and did not miss another beat until the lieutenant shut off the power after a graceful landing at Self Ridge. Officers at the local field were quick in declaring that had the engine stopped while Lieutenant Crocker was flying at so low an altitude, the plane would have crashed.

When the lieutenant set off for the north he carried with him a parcel of sandwiches, a bottle of coffee, a quantity of chocolate and a quantity of drinking water. He ate two sandwiches and drank a small quantity of water, being too busy fighting the storm to make of the remainder.

At times Lieutenant Crocker attained a speed of 120 miles an hour. At others his speed was cut to below 100.

FREE-FOR-ALL FIGHT AT BALL PARK IN TENN.

(By The Associated Press)
BRISTOL, Va.-Tenn., May 26.—Several men were slightly injured in a free-for-all fight that took place this afternoon at the baseball park in Kingsport, Tennessee, following a game there between the Bristol and Kingsport teams in the Appalachian League.

Joe Wycallia, Bristol's star fielder, was forced to seek safety from irate fans by scaling the right field fence after the fans had attempted to strike him with bats. Manager Buck Ramer of the Bristol team, was struck by another fan. Next Fisher, umpire, was also chased from the park. Local players declare that the Kingsport fans became enraged by cause of the defeat of their team. During the commotion the roof over the players' benches collapsed, injuring several boys. Inadequate police protection was given by local players as one cause of the trouble. It was reported that Kingsport fans ended the day by a fight among themselves after the hurried departure of the Bristol team tonight.

Workers Strike Is Spreading and 30,000 Men Out

ESSEN, May 26.—The workers and communists strike in the Ruhr continued spreading today and German officials estimated that 30,000 men were out. The strike was extended from the Dortmund region, where many mines and metal works are closed, into the Bochum mining district where 31 shafts and 15 metal works are shut down and 70,000 men are idle.

At the union mine between Dortmund and Bochum 20,000 men are striking. The German authorities have reports that demonstration strike also have become effective in unoccupied Germany bordering on the Ruhr, the men going out at Solingen, in the British area, and at Hamm and Elberfeld.

Three of the trades union at Dortmund sent a message to the socialists Internationale at Hamburg saying the situation was growing more serious and that there would soon be chaos unless something was done.

The workers' police force of 400 men began functioning at Gelsenkirchen today. The men are not uniformed, but wear arm bands of red and white stripes. They carry large clubs, but no firearms. The success of this attempt to provide a policing force has caused the workers in Bochum, Dortmund and Watten-scheid to try and organize similar forces. The workmen's council here has decided that its membership shall not strike and the Essen district is unaffected.

The most effective disorders overnight were at the German mine, where two visiting agitators seeking to ferment a strike were killed in a clash with police.

One of the four firemen wounded during yesterday's disorders in Bochum is dying. The disorders there continued last evening, the strikers entering the offices of newspapers which are supporting the government and also raiding a number of food stores.

The city of Essen has been fined $1,800 by the French because of sabotage incidents and has been notified that if the fine is not paid within a week two additional city officials will be sent to jail. The burgomaster is already in prison for refusal to obey French orders, and Acting Burgomaster Basel was recently arrested because the city failed to pay a previous fine of $1,500.

World Menaced By Balkan Outbreak

PARIS, May 26.—Despite the League of Nations, world court, council of ambassadors, Lausanne conference and other organizations aimed to prevent war, the world is menaced tomorrow by another Balkan outbreak of hostilities, threatening to develop throughout Europe by the Greek ultimatum to the Turks.

The Athens militarists' threat to attack the Ottomans in eastern Thrace is not an empty threat like the British bluff when Mustafa Kemal intended to capture Chanak or the French camouflage when the Turks were massing on the Syrian frontier menacingly.

The Greek army hierarchy is ready to throw 160,000 troops across the Maritza river, which is dried up and fordable almost everywhere, against 8,000 Turkish gendarmes, which is all the allies permit the Angora government to maintain in European Turkey.

Kemal is prevented from reinforcing the gendarmerie by sending troops across the Bosphorus or Dardanelles by the presence of the powerful British fleets patrolling the straits, which today were reinforced by another squadron from Malta. Safe launching an offensive against the feeble Turk gendarmerie, which is not equipped with artillery, machine guns or aviation, the ambitious Greek military leaders are preparing to again start war to uplift the Hellenic prestige, realizing that the Allies grow for the Ottomans spoils—Mosul, the Chester concession grants and other plums which the French, Italians and British have been haggling for since the Lausanne conference began.

Will prevent permitting Kemal to move his army from Asia Minor to give them combat.

The danger to which Europe is exposed through secret diplomacy and bartering on privileges and concessions lies in the danger of the Russians or even the Germans seizing the opportunity to strike under cover of the confusion in South and Central Europe, resulting in a resumption of hostilities.

If the Greeks decide to cross the Maritza tomorrow Kemal will be forced to sign the British terms at the point of a pistol, as only through abandoning his claim on Mosul and tearing up the Chester concession and granting the privileges to a British group instead can he obtain the consent of the British to permit him to rush reinforcements to Thrace to support the gendarmerie.

Quai D'Orsay takes the gravest viewpoint of the situation, but Premier Poincare is unwilling to openly interfere, because he is discontented at the Turks "ingratitude" to France during the conference although the Ottomans declare that France failed to back them up as Franklin Bouillon had promised and which was actuated by Premier Poincare's efforts to keep the British quiet on the Ruhr and reparations affair.

Historic Data On Tobacco Crop

(By The Associated Press)

RICHMOND, Va., May 26.—Tobacco has been the principal cash or money crop in Virginia since the colonial times when it was used as money, and for more than three centuries the product has been the largest source of income for the farmers of the state. Henry M. Taylor, statistician of the United States Department of Agriculture is quoted in a bulletin issued today by Carter W. Wormeley, state director of publicity.

"Early records unfortunately do not show the acreage in tobacco during colonial times," says the bulletin. "The exports of tobacco from Virginia, however, show that in 1618 only 20,000 pounds were sent to England. Production increased rapidly for in 1627 about 500,000 pounds were exported, about 1,500,000 pounds in 1639 and more than 100,000,000 pounds from Virginia and Maryland by the time of the Revolution. In 1790 the production was estimated to be 130,000,000 pounds for Virginia, which at that time included what is now Kentucky, West Virginia and Ohio, and for Maryland. The first census of agriculture, for 1839, reported a crop of 75,347,000 pounds. In 1819 the census gave only 56,803,000 pounds, but the production of 1839 was reported to be 123,568,000 pounds, which was the largest crop recorded until 1901, when the production was estimated to be 136,769,000 pounds. The largest crop ever produced in Virginia was 179,880,000 pounds in 1920.

The largest amount that a tobacco crop has ever brought the growers was $7,000,000 for the crop of 1919 and the smallest amount received for a crop since 1866 was $2,868,000 in 1871. The 1922 crop was the fourth largest in value ever produced in the state, bringing the growers approximately $42,000,000."

Only natives may own land in Java, foreigners being permitted to lease it for periods up to 75 years, no condition half the area is available free for growing rice for the natives.

Conference Of Social Workers

Local delegates have returned from the National Conference of Social Workers which has just closed its fifth session in Washington, D. C., with a record that eclipses all former conferences, both as to numbers in attendance and the widespread interest created. Four thousand delegates from the United States, Canada, Europe, Central and South America attended this great national forum for the discussion of charities, correction, relief, health and philanthropy. The attendance at every session of the conference was so much larger than anticipated by the Conference committee and leaders, overflow meetings had to be held, and as some one wittily remarked, "even the overflow meetings overflowed."

Although the largest auditoriums available in Washington were used, they were inadequate to take care of the enormous crowd.

Seven official delegates from five European countries came to America especially for this conference. Among the delegates and guests were about thirty representatives of foreign countries, who did not appear on the formal program; but who attended the meetings.

Governors of all the States in the United States have been invited to the Conference. During the past fifty years, twenty-five Governors have been members of the Conference, and twice a Governor has served as its President. Governor Tilden of New York, and Governor Bagley of Michigan.

Herbert Hoover, Secretary of Commerce, was chairman of the local committee on arrangements.

The Conference was opened with a brilliant address by Secretary of State Charles Evans Hughes, on "Social Welfare, a Factor in International Relations." Homer Folk of New York, President of the Conference, presided and in his presidential address, "Social Work in the Life of Today," he pointed out the need for social service and private welfare work mean to American life.

It would be difficult to give in a limited time and space a comprehensive idea of this remarkable conference which brought together so many distinguished thinkers and educators from the four corners of the globe.

The five Danville delegates representing five of the local organizations have returned to their separate duties and Associations with a broader vision and a wider outlook, not only of their own particular work, but there cannot but be a more sympathetic understanding of what each is endeavoring to do. Just a final thought from Robert N. Kelso, executive secretary of the Boston Council of Social Agencies, which sums up the entire conference—"In the midst of changing technique and improving ways of doing things the axiom is fixed that sound social judgment rests upon plain, sober common sense."

Death of the captives from disease or at the hands of the bandits.

The present foreign forces here are believed to be entirely inadequate to offer resistance against the brigands. Their detachments at Tien Tsin in Foreign quarters hold that the power preparation for any possible future are immediately should relations developments.

Endeavor Worker Coming May 28

Miss Mamie Gene Cole, field secretary of the All-South extension committee for Junior Christian Endeavor, will be in Danville on Monday, May 28, for two special meetings being arranged by the Danville Union.

Both meetings will be held in the Jefferson Avenue Christian Church, the first at 8 o'clock and the second at 8 o'clock. The Junior Christian Endeavor Society of this church will act as host. Children who care to attend the afternoon session to hear Miss Cole, and to participate in the social hour which will follow. They will serve refreshments to their guests and the parents and workers among children in the churches of the city are especially invited to be present.

The evening session will be the first mass meeting of the union since its organization two months ago. The local union is the youngest in the state and is now composed of six societies in five churches. The officers of the Union feel that they are rendering a real service to the community in bringing Miss Cole to the city. She is an experienced worker with children and is capable of imparting her knowledge to others. She holds diplomas from schools of expression, certificates in Sunday school and play ground work, has taken post-graduate work at Columbia University and knows to those who hear her the benefits of her practical experience as Junior superintendent for the Atlanta and Georgia Christian Endeavor unions, from which positions she was called to her present office and made the superior of the Junior Christian Endeavor work in eleven southern states. Aside from her knowledge of Christian Endeavor and methods of work for children, she is an accomplished reader and has frequently appeared on the programs of leading radio broadcasting stations. Her consecration and enthusiasm has made her meetings a delight to the children all over the south and an inspiration to their elders.

GREAT BENEFITS FROM CARDUI

Georgia Lady Says She Has Avoided Much Suffering by Taking this Well-Known Tonic Medicine.

CLYATTVILLE, Ga.—In a statement which she gave at her home on May 26, Mrs. T. A. Copeland said: "I have, I believe, avoided a good deal of suffering by the use of Cardui, and am thoroughly convinced that it has been of great benefit to me. 'Before the birth of two of my children, I grew so weak and nervous I could hardly go and suffered. I had a friend who told me of Cardui, so the next time when I grew so weak, an run-down I began to use it. I used it three months. I grew stronger and less nervous. The baby was stronger and a better baby, and I really believe it was because I built up my strength with this splendid tonic.'"

Cardui has been in successful use for more than forty years. Thousands of women have written to tell of the beneficial results obtained by taking Cardui, and to recommend it to others. It is a mild, harmless, purely vegetable medicinal preparation—a product of practical experience, scientific investigation and pharmaceutical skill.

Two players in match game are using the same kind of ball. One player has marked his ball slightly so as to be able to distinguish between the two. On reaching the ball, players are in doubt as to their balls. Is it permissible for a player to lift one of the balls in order to search for the mark that he had placed on his ball?

Great care should always be used as to playing the proper ball. If impossible to determine which is your ball without picking up one of the two, you must ask your opponent for his consent before picking up the ball, and must replace it carefully where it lay.

If a player is in doubt as to the direction of play may he ask advice?

A player has the right to ask for advice if in doubt as to the direction of play. His caddy is usually able to give the proper direction. In big matches players are very particular about their caddy and often talk over shots with them before playing.

ZEV RUNS MILE IN RECORD TIME

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, May 26.—Covering the mile in the fastest time ever recorded at the track for a three-year-old, Zev, the sterling colt which beat a field of 20 thoroughbreds to the wire in last week's Kentucky Derby, won the 48th running of the Classic Withers stake at Belmont today, leading in front as the barrier lifted, Jockey Sandoz took Zev to the rail and was never caught, finishing in 1:37 2-5. Maringale, which followed Zev at the finish of the Derby, was also run today, as was Major August Belmont's colt, Messenger. These two had been expected to be Zev's closest contenders.

Zev's victory matched that of Aristides, which after winning the first Kentucky Derby in 1815 captured the second running of the Withers. Sir Barton won both the Derby and Withers in 1919.

Patriots and Bulls Divide Double Bill

GREENSBORO, May 26.—Greensboro and Durham divided honors in a double bill here this afternoon, the Patriots winning the first game by the score of 9 to 8 and the Bulls capturing the second by a 4 to 3 count. The hitting of O'Hara featured the first contest. He secured four hits out of four trips to the plate, giving him a thousand average for the day. With the score standing 8 to 4 in the eighth the locals staged a rally which reeled them four runs, one short of tying the count.

Mussolini Backs Italian Fighter In His Bid For World's Title

By V. DeSANTO.
(Copyright, 1923, By The Bee)
ROME, May 26.—Premier Mussolini wants me to be world champion and I have got to beat Jack Dempsey, "Erminio Spalla, who has won the title of European heavyweight champion, told me today. He added that he is anxiously waiting for a reply to his challenge to Dempsey. Of course, Dempsey cannot refuse," he said. "The challenge was sent through the International Sport Federation, of which both Italy and America are members. The question is to arrange the time, place and conditions. Dempsey has three challenges ahead of time and it may be several months before my big fight will come off. But it is worth while waiting for it. It is the goal of my ambition to measure my strength with Dempsey."

NEW RUNNING RECORD IS SET

(By The Associated Press)
STAGG FIELD, Chicago, May 26.—A blonde, spindled-legged youth named Eugene Goodwillie, recorded today the world's fastest human, by establishing a new American record in the 220 yard dash. Led the record for the 100 yard event, and, practically unopposed, won the nineteenth annual national neurocolastic track meet for University High school of Chicago. University High with twenty points, captured the honors in the high school division while St. John's Military Academy of Delafield, Wis., won the academy division with sixty points. Hollywood, California, was second in the high school division with 17 points, and Cedar Rapids, Iowa, third with 14. The meet, conducted under the auspices of the University of Chicago, drew more than 750 school boy athletes from more than thirty states, making the event the greatest intercollegiate meet ever staged in America.

SHELTON WINS FROM LEE ST.

Lee Street and Shelton Memorial put up a great exhibition in the second or twilight game. Shelton finally winning by the score of 4 to 2. Both pitchers were in great form. Winkler allowing four hits while Micky Walker held his opponents to two hits. Errors at critical times accounted for all the runs scored. Gravett was the only player to garner two hits. Both of his two-baggers were long, hard drives. Several pretty catches were made in the outfield and some clever stops and throws in the infield. The line-up:

PORTSMOUTH WINS STATE BASEBALL CHAMPIONSHIP

(By The Associated Press)
CHARLOTTEVILLE, Va., May 26.—Woodrow Wilson high school of Portsmouth won the state high school baseball championship here today, defeating Abingdon 15 to 3. The victorious team was awarded a silver loving cup.

Danville Wins From the Twins By 4 To 3 Score

WINSTON-SALEM, May 26.—Danville evened the series by defeating Winston-Salem here this afternoon to the tune of 4 to 3. Timely and hard hitting by the visitors enabled them to win. After the sixth inning when each side made two runs, it was three up and three down. Lefty Wilson twirled his first game for Danville. He seemed to have the stuff, although, the locals hit for seven safeties. Centerfielder Rzan for Danville got back into the game today after an absence for about ten days because of an injury sustained when he was sliding home.

Danville gained a three run lead by making two runs on four timely singles. However, the Twins scored two runs on two baggers and a single. After that each twirler was invincible.

National League

(SUNDAY'S GAMES:)

CARDINALS LOSE TO CINCINNATI REDS

CINCINNATI, May 27.—The Reds broke their losing streak of six straight games by defeating St. Louis 2 to 1 in a pitcher's battle today. Laque blanked the visitors until the ninth when errors by Bohne and Roush saved them from a shutout. Previous to this inning, the Cuban had gone 12 rounds, against New York, Brooklyn and St. Louis without allowing a run. Five double plays featured the fielding. Score: St. Louis 000 000 000 001—1; Cincinnati 000 010 010 000—2. Tony, Sell and Almsmith; Laque and Hargrave.

PIRATES TAKE GAME FROM CUBS BY A SCORE OF 4 TO 2

CHICAGO, May 27.—Vic Aldridge spotted the Pirates four runs in the first inning, then pitched outright ball, and although Chicago hit Lee Meadows freely they lacked the punch when they would have turned the tide in their favor. Poor base running also prevented the locals from scoring, the game ending 4 to 2 in favor of the visitors. Ray Grimes, who has been out of the game for some time because of an injured back, returned today and made three of Chicago's 15 hits. Score: Pittsburgh 000 000 000—4; Chicago 000 001 000—2. Meadows and Schmidt, Kaufman, Aldridge and Barnett.

BENTON'S WILD PITCH COOKS. THE GOOSE FOR THE BRAVES

BROOKLYN, May 27.—A wild pitch by Benton after two men were out in the ninth permitted Brooklyn players to score the tying and winning runs in the Dodgers' 5 to 3 victory over the Braves and a single gave them the lead, 5 to 4. A pass, a hit, a stolen base and Benton's wild toss to the grandstand in Brooklyn's half decided the contest. Score: Boston 000 000 300 002—5; Brooklyn 000 010 002—3. Marquard, Benton and Cowdy; Vance, Deator and Deberry.

UMPIRE STRONG BOOSTER FOR WILLIE KAMM

PHILADELPHIA, May 26.—"Willie Kamm of the Chicago White Sox is the greatest fielding third baseman I have ever seen in action," says Umpire Brick Owens of the American League.

"This fellow Kamm can do everything that Bradley and Collins ever did and besides has a few tricks of his own," says Owens. "I don't think he will ever lead the league in batting, but he will hold up his end at the bat."

In the spring series with the Giants I saw enough of Kamm to convince me that he is a real big leaguer. Chicago won't have to worry about third base for a long time. Kamm can go in either direction and is a wonder on balls hit down the foul line, the seemingly impossible chances."

Pointers Win Over Raleigh

RALEIGH, May 26.—In a swatfest for both sides, High Point came out on the top end of the score, winning easily over Raleigh by the score of 13 to 7. The locals used three twirlers and the visitors two, all of whom were ineffective. There were sixteen bases on ball during the game. High Point made her thirteen runs off eleven hits. In the ninth they made five tallies off only one bingle, the remainder coming on walks and errors and one passed ball. It was a very uninteresting game. The box score:

ALL-STARS BEAT SCHOOLFIELD IN HECTIC BATTLE

In a comedy of errors yesterday at Bi-State park the All-Stars finally emerged victorious over the Schoolfield aggregation after eleven hectic frames by the score of 15 to 12. In spite of the large number of runs the contest abounded in sparkling plays and clever fielding, both teams showing flashes of class that the box score hides under the cold figures.

The real feature of the game was the comeback staged by the Stars who at one period of the contest were seven runs behind, but by steady plugging and opportune clouting, they finally managed to pull up on even terms and in the eleventh by a well directed attack they turned in the decisive markers.

It took the Stars five innings to reach their stride, but once under way they refused to be headed and tied the score in the ninth by a rally that a trio of runs after Schoolfield had forged that far in the van in their part of the eighth.

The real feature of the pastime was the steady box work of Frank Turner for the Stars, who finally won out after his team mates had practically kicked the game away, but in awarding the "mud" one must not overlook the terrific clouting of Jesse Benton and "Red" Moley, as this pair contributed eleven hits and eight runs as their portion of entertainment. It was "Red's" four-py blow in the eleventh that really turned the tide, as the score was locked at 12 all, and his wallop over the right wall was margin enough to win.

TOMMY MILTON WINS POSITION

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 26.—Driving at the speed of more than 103 miles an hour—the fastest ever recorded officially at the local speedway—Tommy Milton today won the pole position for the annual five hundred mile automobile race to be held here next Wednesday. Seven other drivers qualified their cars for the event by negotiating ten miles at a speed of 80 miles an hour or more. Milton's performance was a thriller. His new eight cylinder racer, which has a piston displacement of only 122 cubic inches, increased its speed on each of the four circuits of the 2 1/2 mile course. The final lap was negotiated at a speed of 109.45 miles an hour, giving him a grand total average of 103.17 miles an hour. The total elapsed time was 5:23:31. The machine is a single seater.

Shadows From The Ring

NEW YORK, May 28.—Every time Phil Bernstein glimpses mention of the fact that Pancho Villa is to get first crack at Jimmy Wilde, the manager of Franky Genaro throws a fit. Phil avers that Genaro, being fly-weight champion, is deserving of first bang at the English champion. Bernstein argues also that Genaro is twice the attraction the Filipino is and asserts Franky can lick Wilde and Villa the same night in the same ring.

The proposed match between Johnny Wilson, midweight champion, and Harry Greb of Pittsburgh seemingly has fallen out of sight. We happen to know that Greb is willing any time Wilson says the word but for some reason the promoters are not making any special effort to put the two on.

Patsy Flanagan, a young Ohio featherweight, is in New York seeking a row with some of the eastern battlers of his division.

Mike McTigue, the young Irishman K. O'Connell, but and captured the world's light-heavyweight championship, has turned burlesque actor. Mike has been signed up for one week beginning Monday at the Columbia theatre. Something might be said here about Mike's burlesque experience in the ring.

Bob Roper, the Chicago boxer, and Dan O'Dowd, of Boston, started out to box twelve rounds at the Ring Sporting Club, last night, but it seems Roper landed hard to O'Dowd's ribs in the fifth frame and when old Dan crumpled on the floor his seconds raised a chair of foul. The referee, Jack Clifford, gave O'Dowd time to recover and then ordered him to proceed against Roper. At that point Roper's manager, Phil Lewis, insisted that the blow was fair and that Roper should be entitled to a knockout. Lewis' contention finally was sustained by the referee but all concerned day were summoned to appear before the boxing commission and explain.

JOHNSTON T O PLAY IN TENNIS FINALS M E E T

(By The Associated Press)

ST. CLOUD, France, May 26.—William M. Johnston, of California, and Jean Washer, of Belgium, will meet in the finals of the men's singles of the international hard tennis championship tournament—the last tournament at which the world's hard court championship will be decided. Johnston by his defeat today of the young French player Henri Cochet, by the score of 6-1, 3-6, 8-5, 6-4, 6-3. The same Belgian in 1921 met William T. Tilden in the finals, but was down to defeat in three straight sets. The same old story of the hard court championship and Riviera tennis of the past twenty years will obtain so far as the women's singles are concerned, as Suzanne Lenglen will meet Miss Kathleen McKane, of England, in the finals. Miss Lenglen defeated Mrs. Beamish of England today 6-1, 6-1, while Miss McKane had little difficulty in overcoming Mme. Golding of France 6-2, 6-2.

Thimbles were made of walnut and oak at one time. A 11:1 passenger elevator was put into use in 1873.

SINGLE-SIX
FIVE-PASSENGER TOURING CAR
$2485 at Detroit

There is only one way accurately to characterize the Single-Six.

To say it is a Packard immediately places it in that exclusive class of cars from which the superlative kind of motoring is expected as a matter of course.

The Single-Six is entitled to this classification because it directly inherits all those qualities that make the name Packard the accepted measure of character in the fine car field.

Society's "Royalty" Watches Sport Of Kings

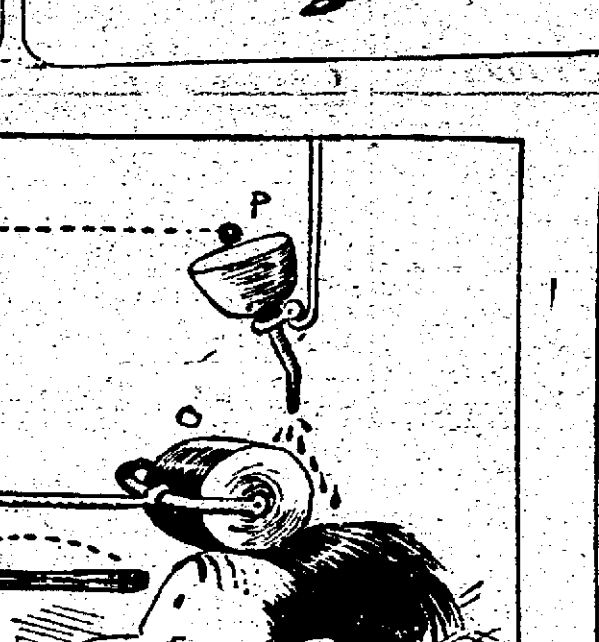

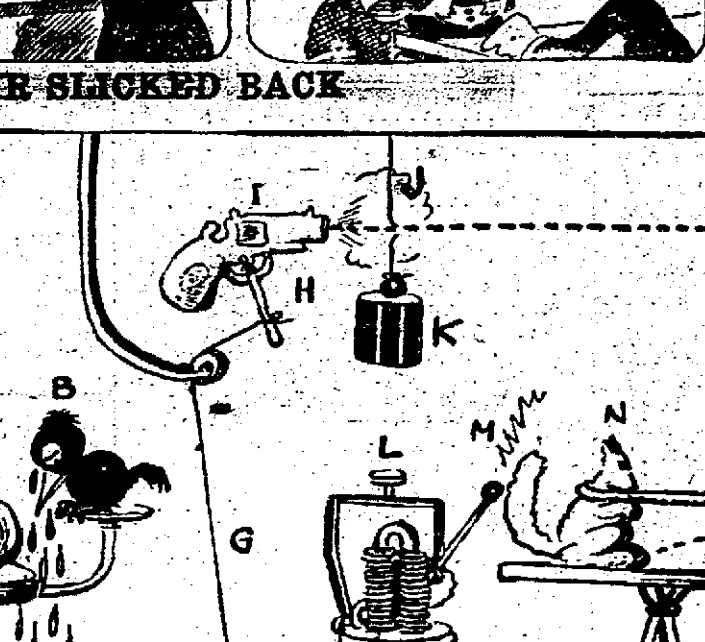

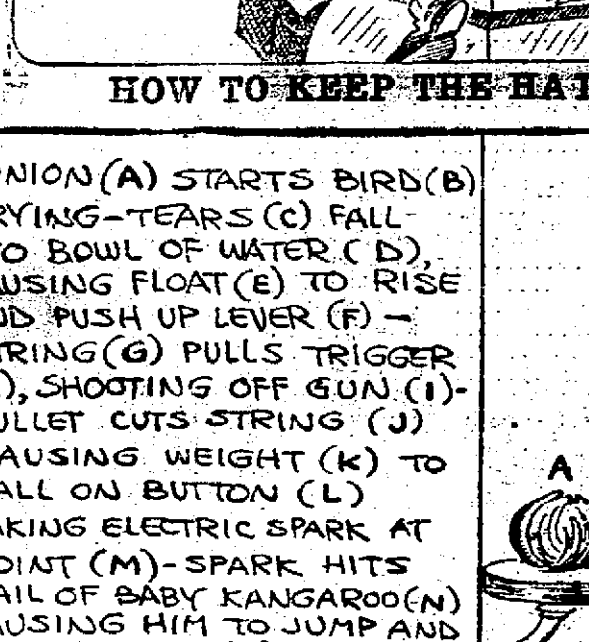

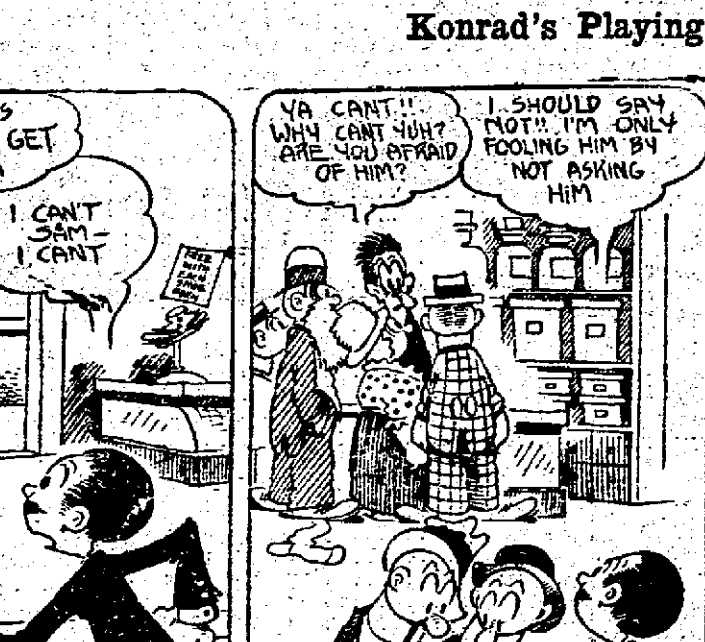

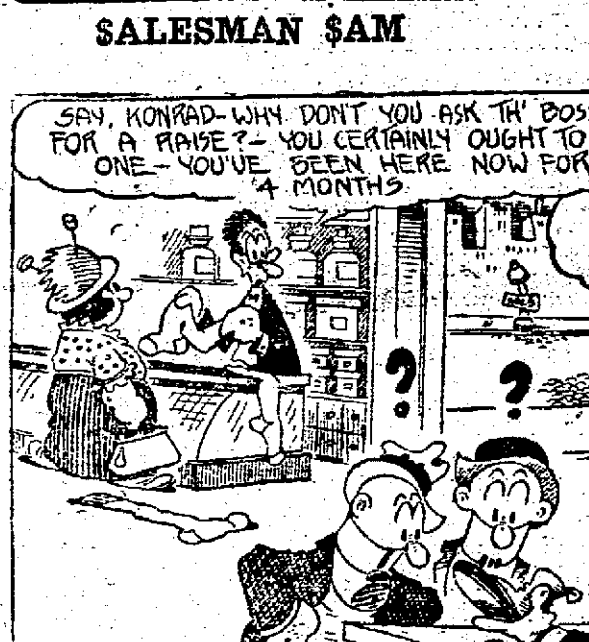

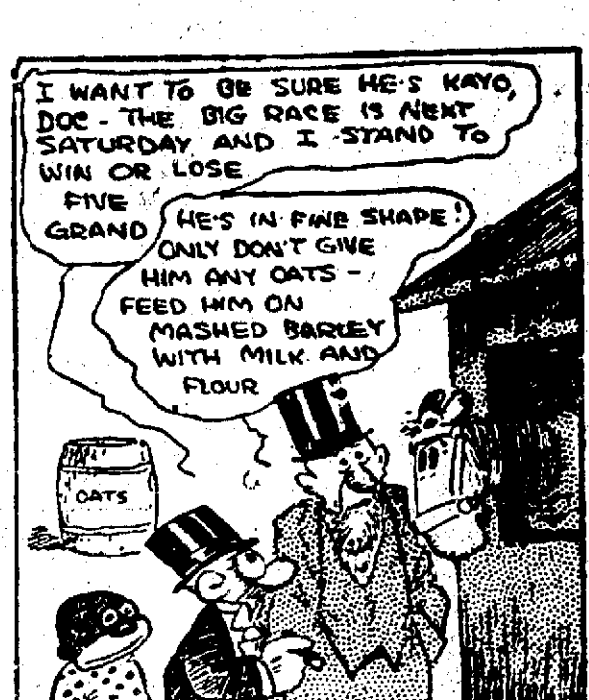

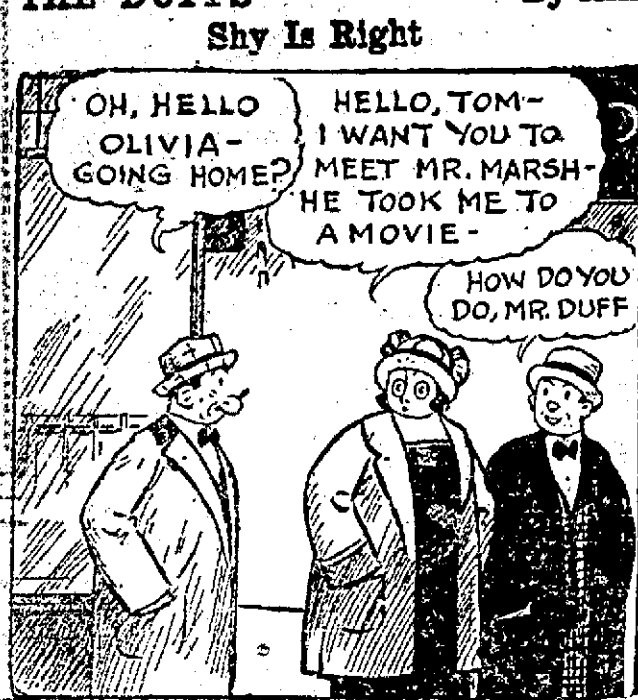

Probably more millionaires and leaders of high society witnessed the first day's racing at Deimont Park, N. Y., than were ever present at a racetrack in the United States. And what a thrill Grey Lag, with Jockey Sande up, gave them in the Metropolitan! Carrying 133 pounds, he was lengths ahead of a field of the best handicap horses in the country at the end of the mile. Cathleen Vanderbilt and her fiance, Harry C. Cushing, 3rd (left), were snapped as they watched the race. August Belmont, principal owner of the track, is shown with Mrs. Francis Bishop, society leader.

California Is Winner For 3rd Time Of Meet

(By The Associated Press)
FRANKLIN FIELD, May 26.—A small but sturdy far westerners carrying the Blue and Gold colors of the University of California, today swept aside the best that the east could offer and captured for the third successive year the intercollegiate track and field championship at the 47th annual I. C. A. A. meet on Franklin Field.

The husky squad of thirteen Golden Bears, captained by Brock Muller, all-American football star, scored 39 1-2 points, one less than their winning total of last year but enough to win decisively over Princeton, which finished second with 33 points. The Tigers battled pluckily to overcome the tremendous advantage of the westerners in the field events but their best efforts were not good enough to repel the brawn of the invaders.

Tale, which with Princeton shared the honors of the meet, failed to come up to expectations in the deciding events and despite the large number it qualified, the Blue collected but 23 points, winning third place by a 1-2 point over Pennsylvania. Cornell, by virtue of two snail victories, one by Kirby in the mile and the other by Lovejoy in the 220 yard dash, landed fifth place. Penn State and Syracuse tied for sixth place with 13 points each. Johns Hopkins finished eighth with 12 and Dartmouth ninth with ten points.

Ideal track and conditions prevailed for the finals of the two day meet, but although the field events were threatened records in several of the events no new marks were established. Two intercollegiate records established yesterday—the javelin throw of 193 feet, 1 inch by Storrs, of Yale, and the hammer throw of 181 feet, three inches, by Tottle, of Bowdoin, both stood for first places in the finals today.

Thirty-one colleges, represented by close to nine hundred athletes, competed for the college track and field crown but due to eliminations yesterday only 24 were represented today and of these but 19 placed men in the finals.

California's versatile squad of field performers scored enough points alone for the Golden Bears to win. The westerners tallied 36 1-2 points in six field events, Becker capturing three points and the only place in the track with a third place in the 120 yard hurdles.

Bill Neufeldt, a brawny "native son" was the individual star of the meet, scoring 11 points for California with a first place in the discus, second in the javelin and fourth in the shot put.

The meet was one of the few on record which developed no double winner but in addition to Neufeldt, three other individual stars stood out, each with nine points for California. Joseph Hull, of Princeton, who won the shot put and won second in the hammer throw; Allen Woodring, crack Syracuse runner, victory in the 440 and second in the 220 yard dashes and J. Conrad Taylor, of Princeton, who won the 220 yard hurdles and finished second in the quarter mile.

It was a bad day for champions in

CHINA ACCEPTS U. S. DEMAND FOR AN INDEMNITY

(By The Associated Press)
PEKING, May 26.—The Chinese government today notified the American Legation of its acceptance of the demand for an indemnity of $25,000 for the killing of Charles Coleman, an American citizen, at Kalgan, December 11, 1922. The government notification added that two adjutants concerned in the killing had been dismissed from the service.

Coleman was shot by Chinese sentries at Kalgan as he was about to cross the Mongolian frontier.

OPENED RESTAURANT WHILE ON VACATION, BIG SUCCESS

COLON, Panama, May 28.—Mayme Lee Kelley, here from Omaha seven years ago, didn't relish the chow restaurants served. So she invested her entire savings in a third-class "eatery" and installed herself in its kitchen.

"I'll give the natives and visitors food like mother used to cook," she promised.

Two or three weeks and she had fitted her third-rate establishment into a first-class cafe. Folks who dropped in to taste her tempting dishes always came back again. All agreed Mayme's was the one place in town where the cats were good.

Today she is the restaurant, cafe, cabaret and hotel boss in this section of the world.

Mayme had been working steadily in Omaha for several years without a vacation. She decided she needed a bit of rest.

Of Panama's wonderful climate she had heard much. So here she came, and never left.

The few hundred dollars she invested had increased unbelievably. Now Mayme owns the biggest cafe-cabarets in Colon and Panama City and the Jardine Hotel in Colon.

A fleet of 146 American war vessels were anchored off Panama City for two months last spring. The 40,000 officers and men aboard spent more than $2,500,000 during those months. At least $2,000,000 of this, it is estimated, found its way into Mayme's cash registers.

Her largest cabaret boasts of 25 entertainers. Her performances are said to vie with those in Broadway's lobster palaces.

"Prices—even liquor—are not unreasonable," she wants Americans to know.

"We get 40 to 45 cents for whisky and cocktails," she quotes.

MAYME LEE KELLEY

"Egg drinks bring 51 cents and a bottle of beer 35 cents."

Mayme declares she's strong for the isthmus.

"It's one of the show spots of the world," she explains. "I believe 'See Panama First' clubs ought to be organized all over the United States."

"Down here there's plenty to see, plenty to do, plenty to eat—and plenty to drink. And the beauty of it all is that Panama is a foreign climate, but flies the Stars and Stripes."

CHATHAM NEWS.

CHATHAM, May 26.—The political field for county and State officers has been seething with excitement this week in which seeking after the office of county treasurer has been predominating. Incumbent H. G. Bennett has declined to stand for election, and since his announcement Chas. A. Thompson from the extreme northeastern part of the county has announced his candidacy, making his fight on the matter of compensation. He is offering the office for the sum of four thousand dollars per year—the excess which now amounts to almost an equal amount to be returned to the schools of the county.

On Saturday morning, J. W. Giles, a prominent merchant of this place, announced his candidacy, the compensation to be whatever the law allows, which he hopes will be fixed by the General Assembly at a reasonable compensation. J. W. Whitehead, months ago, offering to accept the office for five thousand per annum.

The office of Treasurer for several years has been paying the treasurer more $7,500.00 a year and some times more, and the question foremost with many voters is who will serve for the lowest salary and indications are that the campaign will to a great degree hinge on that.

This week H. D. Shepherd announced his candidacy for the House of Delegates. He was a candidate two years ago and came within something of more than one hundred votes of being nominated, the candidates for the House of Delegates are C. R. Warren, B. S. Warren and Robt. T. Carter.

The campaign for county officers particularly promises to be one of much activity. For Commonwealth's Attorney four are asking for the job, sheriff the want to serve the people, for treasurer a like number have their hats off and in every revenue districts the aspirants number from three to nine, for supervisor nearly every one of the seven districts the incumbents are being opposed and so on down with exception for the Senate which at this time is unopposed.

The District Sunday School Conventions will be held in Banister and Staunton River districts on Sunday the 27th, the Banister convention meeting with the Shockey church and the Staunton River with Straightstone church. Both are easy of access and a large crowd will be present. The intention of these district conventions is to arouse more interest in Sunday-school work and behind this work and giving it much time is Dr. L. B. Whitehead of this place and superintendent of the Presbyterian Sunday school of this place.

At the Presbyterian church on Sunday morning will be Baby Day Exercises and the program though short will be very interesting. Immediately following the morning services at the Presbyterian church a meeting of the church members of much importance in to be held and every member is urged to be present.

Miss Adele Clark, president of the Virginia League of Women Voters, and Dr. Kate Waller Barrett, state regent of the D. A. R.'s, will speak at the Baptist Sunday-school room on Monday afternoon at four o'clock. They are both of State reputation and will bring a message of much importance to the women of this section.

The May term of Pittsylvania county circuit court will open Monday morning to resume the docket. All unfinished business will be disposed of and rapidly as possible.

The North End Rook Club was entertained at the home of Mrs. G. E. Thompson on Main street Friday night, five tables being in play and the game much enjoyed by all present, ending with refreshments.

Mrs. Pauline Nunnelee, of Riceville, is guest of Mrs. W. T. Canada. A large number of citizens from here attended the Rural Life Conference at Whitwell Friday and Saturday.

BIG SUBSCRIPTION DANCE

A Hundred Couples Enjoy This Diversion in Temple Ball.

The subscription dance Saturday in the ball-room of the Masonic temple was one of the largest and most brilliant affairs of its kind in this city in years, about one hundred couples participating in the exhilarating diversion. Music by the Garber-Davis orchestra, which is popular with the younger dancing set, contributed very much to the pleasure of the evening. The only regret that many had was that midnight came all too soon for them. However, dancing was begun earlier than usual in recognition of the fact that it was limited to midnight as a finale. However, the eager dancers gave the musicians little rest and economized time far as practicable by limiting the length of the intermission. Many of the fairest and most popular of the young girls and men of the city were present. During an intermission enjoyable refreshment had been provided.

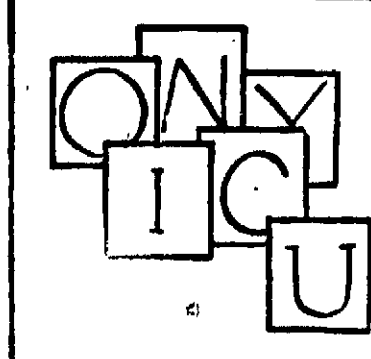

Charles B. Davis, Jr., arranged the dance and was gratified by the interest manifested.

Daily Puzzle

Each with a different letter on it. The puzzle is to form the cards in line so that they will spell a person's name.

Saturday's answer:
If the two figures composing the number 45 (4 and 5), are added together and multiplied by 5, they will give 45 (4 plus 5 is 9, multiplied by 5 is 45). If 9 is added to 45, the two figures (4 and 5) will be reversed, now forming 54.

Booze Counterfeit Is Latest Evil

(Special to The Bee.)
WASHINGTON, May 28.—Legitimate manufacturers of Canadian whisky are suffering so much by the counterfeiting of their labels and caps by persons who make synthetic liquor that they are helping to run down the rum runners, according to Judge E. L. Proctorfield, division chief for Ohio, Indiana and Michigan. He has made such a report to prohibition Commissioner Roy A. Haines.

With reference to the seizure of a plant at Detroit, which it was stated, had been making "smuggled" Canadian liquor out of denatured alcohol, Judge Proctorfield said:

"Singular as it may seem, the labels, caps, stamps, etc., are so perfectly counterfeited that the fake product is entering into competition with the genuine even in Canada, and the campaign of co-operation, by Canadian distillers resulting in the recent seizure in Detroit, is for the purpose of protecting the reputation and good name of the brands being counterfeited."

—Col. Decatur J. Holcomb who is patient at Edmunds Hospital is showing marked improvement after having undergone a serious operation.

COLDWATER, Miss., May 28.—A case that has baffled medical skill is that of James Holder, 6-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Vallee. Holder of this place who recovered sight, hearing and speech at the same time after being deprived of all three for several weeks. The child has been in ill health for the past year, and finally he lost the power of speech and the faculties of sight and hearing. These were all restored in the stroke of midnight as the child's father sat beside him.
